Supervisors Approve Budget, Apport Plan

Must Raise 5,345,120 By Taxes

Lists 12 Districts, 33 Supervisors

Two important items of business were transacted Monday night by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors. They were adoption of the 1967 $12,341,047.82 gross budget and approval of a reapportionment plan for the county. Other routine business was also transacted.

The amount to be raised by real estate tax levy in the 1967 budget, as revised, is $5,345,120.15. This is $577,884.03 more than was raised under the 1966 budget which called for raising $4,767,236.48.

No Bid for Increases

The public hearing on the budget which was held prior to the board meeting was marked by two outstanding observations. One the lack of public interest in the record budget and second, for the first time in many years there were no county employees attending the hearing seeking increases in salary.

Called to order at 7:20 p. m. by Chairman Charles Relyea, there were approximately 50 persons in attendance at the public hearing on the budget and few of these present spoke on the proposed budget.

Following the public hearing the board met and approved the tentative budget with only a few minor corrections and changes. Approval was by a vote of 24 to 9. Voting against adoption of the budget were Supervisors George Barthel (D), Wawarsing; James J. Carroll (D), 10th ward; George Majestic (D), Gardiner; Robert F. Phinney (R), 11th ward; Clarence C. Raichle (R), 12th ward; John C. Sangalet (R), Joseph B. Scully (D), 4th ward; Arthur J. Smith (D), 5th ward; Daniel Smith (D), 7th ward.

In voting against adoption of the budget Supervisor Sangaline exclaimed he was casting his vote against since there was no provision for aid to the Kingston Library.

Two-Hour Hearing

The hearing on the budget lasted for approximately two hours with Harry M. Thayer, manager of a local radio station, being the first to discuss the budget. He went over the budget page by page making inquiry as to numerous items. During his two-hour discussion of the budget he relinquished the floor several times to others who sought to discuss specific items as they were reached.

One of the primary objections to the budget was the increases which were granted to heads of departments and the small increases granted to other employees. Thayer questioned various items in the budget and to some of the objections he said the answers were "unsatisfactory."

Points to Increases

Among the items which Thayer pointed to was the increase which the board voted to its members. He noted that the salary of the chairman of the board had been increased from $2,100 to $3,000; majority leader from $1,700 to $2,700; minority leader from $1,500 to $2,500 and the other 33 supervisors were granted an $800 increase from $1,200 to $2,000. While the board was voting itself a large increase in salary, (Continued on Page 33, Col. 1)

Accept Community College As Accreditation Candidate

Ulster County Community College has been accepted as a recognized candidate for accreditation by the Middle States Commission on Institutions of Higher Education, Dr. Dale B. Lake, the college president, said today.

"We are pleased to have our college taking this important step forward," said Dr. Lake. "We are going to make every effort to move from our position now as rapidly as possible to full accreditation."

The Middle States Commission notified Dr. Lake of the acceptance and also has sent notification of it to the New York State Department of Education and the Bureau of Higher Education in the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The acceptance came after Dr. Robert Kirkwood, associate executive secretary for the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the Middle States Association recently visited the U.C.C.C. campus and conferred with college officials.

"We have determined by studies and a personal visit," Dr. Kirkwood wrote, "that the college is established on a sound

HONOR AWARD TRIP—Three Ulster County 4-H Youth recently participated in an Honor Award Trip program in New York City from Dec. 13 through Dec. 16. Selected to participate on the basis of their over-all achievement in agriculture and Living Science were (l-r) Pratt Boice, Lake Katrine; Jill Abrahamsen, New Paltz and Bruce Brower, High Falls. The Ulster 4-H members joined with about 60 other 4-H'ers located in 29 other counties throughout New York State. During their stay at New York they visited and toured many areas of interest such as the United Nations, New York Stock Exchange, Fulton Fish Market and the Statue of Liberty. The award program emphasized Career Exploration and the HAT event was initiated with a special Career and Opportunity banquet Tuesday night. Story on Page 21. (Freeman photo by Wagenföhr.)

Probe $400,000 Blaze Of Millerton Cow Barn

Origin of an early morning fire that leveled a large cattle barn and two other frame buildings and killed 80 to 85 head of livestock on the property of J. M. Kaplan & Son Inc., Millerton, was under investigation today by the Dutchess County sheriff's office.

The loss was estimated between $350,000 and $400,000, according to Sergeant Hugh Brennan of the sheriff's staff.

Fireman Overcome

One fireman was overcome by smoke at the scene of the blaze which was discovered shortly after 1:30 a. m. He was Volunteer Richard DeWitt, who was revived after treatment by Dr.

Plaza Has Plans For Eight More, Near Sears-GU

Kingston Plaza, Inc., announced today that plans are now being drawn for additional stores to be constructed between the Sears, Roebuck & Co. store and the Grand Union Company store in the Kingston Shopping Plaza.

A company spokesman said additional square footage will be close to 30,000 and it was indicated that eight stores would be represented, ranging in size from 1,500 to 12,000.

It is expected that actual construction will start April 1, 1967 with a completion date and grand opening scheduled for late summer or early fall.

This will bring the Plaza occupancy to 29 stores. The names of prospective tenants for the new stores will not be made public until lease transactions are finalized, it was said.

Michael Badeen, an assistant county medical examiner.

Firemen from Millerton and Amenia battled the raging flames that swept through the frame farm buildings in sub-freezing temperature. At times firefighters were hampered by ice that froze on the ground and hoses.

Sergeant Brennan said the cattle barn was 175 by 36 feet, a two-and-a-half story structure. A shed attached to the barn was 60 by 75 feet and a nearby milk house was 30 by 40 feet. All three buildings were destroyed by the flames.

The flames swept out of control for more than an hour. According to Brennan some livestock that was not burned in the barn, escaped or animals led outside, but might have to be destroyed because of injuries or burns.

Equipment Lost

Three farm tractors, a hay baler, 250 tons of hay, a quantity of feed, a grain mill and milking equipment also were lost in the fire that attracted scores of area residents. The flames could be seen for miles around Millerton.

Chief Deputy Charles Borchers and Deputy Robert Coons investigated and will continue to seek evidence that might determine the cause of the fire.

The Kaplans have operated a cattle and horse auction establishment in Millerton many years, and are well known throughout the state.

Cut Classes, Faulty Heater

Due to failure of the heating plant at Ulster County Community College, there will be no evening classes tonight.

College President Dr. Dale B. Lake said that the college is presently "like an icebox." He noted that tonight was to be the last night before Christmas recess.

Dr. Lake said he hopes to have the heating system repaired shortly.

Think Plea Dramatizes U.S. Readiness on Viet

TOKYO (AP) — The Viet Cong representative in Communist China rejected today the U.S. request for peace in Vietnam through the United Nations, a Japanese report from Peking said.

Kyodo news service's Peking-based correspondent said the rejection was contained in a speech delivered in the Chinese capital by Nguyen Minh Phuoc, acting head of the permanent mission of the National Front for Liberation, the Viet Cong political organ.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has several efforts under way to probe the possibilities of extending a Christmas truce in Vietnam into a long-term cease-fire under agreed conditions, officials report.

But they add that reactions from Communist leaders so far are completely negative.

Specifics Declined

The possibility that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant can interest North Vietnam in cease-fire discussions is considered slight, in the light of the probing so far.

Officials declined to give any specifics, but said there had been no encouragement to hope for a break in the war of more than a few hours duration during the holiday season.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg asked Thant Monday to explore all possible ways of getting cease-fire talks going.

The move was designed in part, according to available information here, to dramatize declared U. S. readiness for easing of the war on a reciprocal basis.

It appears also to have been designed to forestall heavy new pressures on the United States to have a long pause this holiday season in the bombing of North Vietnam.

Rule Out Bombing Halt
Officials still rule out an extended suspension of bombing by the United States unless the Communists make a reciprocal move to scale down hostilities.

Both Thant and Pope Paul VI have been pressing for extension of the Christmas truce beginning next Saturday into a lengthy period of quiet in the (Continued on Page 33, Col. 2)

End U.N. Session On Cordial Note, Ban War in Space

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — The U.N. General Assembly neared the end of its 21st session today on a harmonious note highlighted by unanimous approval of a treaty outlawing war in outer space.

The United States and the Soviet Union paved the way for approval of the space treaty by agreeing last week to the terms of the pact, which provides the first legal code governing exploration of space.

President Johnson hailed it as the most important arms-control agreement since the limited nuclear test-ban treaty of 1963.

Lauds Assembly

Secretary-General U Thant congratulated the assembly on approving the pact which will become law after it is ratified by five governments, including those of the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain.

Hit Troops Of North In 3rd Day

Oil Dump Bombed By Other Raiders

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — High-flying B52 bombers today carried on the U.S. campaign to smash a North Vietnamese buildup in the demilitarized zone, raining explosives on infiltrating troops in their sixth raid in three days.

U.S. headquarters said the Stratofortis hit troop concentrations in the southern half of the buffer zone a few miles north of the area where five B52s struck in the previous two days.

Fly Through Flak

Over North Vietnam, other American bombers, flying through intense flak and challenging MIG interceptors, hit an oil dump 14½ miles north of Hanoi and other targets Monday.

U.S. pilots flew 121 missions over the north, the highest number in recent weeks of bad weather. The missions involved 350 to 400 individual sorties.

The fliers reported sighting numerous MIGs and the speedy delta-wing MIG21s, but only one encounter was reported.

U.S. headquarters said a group of MIG21s fired cannon and air-to-air missiles at Air Force bombers in a single firing pass but no American planes were hit.

Ground fighting in South Vietnam continued on a small scale as the 48-hour truce for Christmas approached. The truce starts at 7 a.m. Saigon time Saturday.

Marked Anniversary

The Viet Cong marked the sixth anniversary today of the founding of the National Liberation Front, the insurgent movement to take over rule of South Vietnam, but an anticipated outbreak of terrorism failed to materialize.

However, South Vietnamese military headquarters reported eight small Viet Cong probe attacks, ambushes and mortar shellings in widely scattered parts of the country.

The U.S. destroyer Maddox attacked supply junks and barges about seven miles north of the demilitarized zone Monday for the second straight day. The Maddox reported destroying four of the water craft and damaging 10 more in a continuation of the 7th Fleet's Operation Traffic Cop, a coastal patrol aimed at halting the flow of Communist supplies by sea to the Viet Cong in South Vietnam.

North of Hanoi

As the bombing of North Vietnam stepped up Monday, seven flights of Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs pounded the Ha Ha petroleum, oil and lubricant dump 14½ miles north of Hanoi. They were the first raids in the area of the North Vietnamese capital since last Tuesday and Wednesday, when the Communists claimed U.S. bombs fell inside the city itself. The U.S. command denied the Red claims.

A U.S. spokesman said heavy smoke over the oil dump prevented an accurate damage assessment. The fuel installation is only a mile from the Phao Yen airfield, the major airbase for Communist MIGs in North Vietnam. The MIG base has never been attacked by U.S. bombers, but the nearby oil dump was raided twice before this month.

U.S. planes also struck Monday at a storage area 24 miles east-southeast of the major port of Haiphong. Navy fliers from the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise and two other carriers in the Tonkin Gulf concentrated on coastal targets in the southern panhandle and on Hanoi.

Jail Youths on Theft Of Supervisor's Auto

Charged with the theft of a 1964 car owned by Supervisor Bowman H. Owen, Town of Hardenbergh, Monday night two youths were taken into custody by Highland State Police as they rode along Route 9W, Town of Lloyd in a car with one tire missing.

State Trooper Robert Whalen, who made the arrest shortly before midnight with Trooper Thomas Starace, said Donald Sickler, 23, of 35 Abbey Street, city, and James McCowan, 19, of 231 Broadway, Port Ewen, were held on charges of first degree grand larceny.

In City Court
They were later turned over to the custody of Detectives Guernsey Burgher and Wilmot Hall after questioning by BCI Investigator Joseph Franke.

City court hearing was today put over to Friday to allow them time to obtain counsel. No bail was fixed and they were returned to jail. Sickler was one of three arrested recently after reported trouble at a local restaurant. He pleaded guilty Dec. 13 to a disorderly conduct charge and is due to be sentenced Saturday.

According to Trooper Whalen, he and Starace were on night patrol on Route 9W at 11:50 p. m. when they saw a car traveling south and weaving back and forth on the pavement. Whalen said as the trooper car headed after the other vehicle it ran over a tire, which had dropped off the right front wheel of the car later identified as a stolen vehicle.

After stopping the 1964 car as it approached the intersection of Route 299, troopers said they found Sickler and McCowan in the vehicle. A 22 caliber automatic weapon in the car belonged to Supervisor Owen, who holds a permit, troopers said.

Sickler and McCowan were taken to the state police office (Continued on Page 33, Col. 6)

Ted Kennedy Expresses Hope for Book Compromise

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says he hopes for a compromise in the dispute over publication of the book about the assassination of his brother, President John F. Kennedy.

"I hope that some day the book will be published," the Massachusetts Democrat said in an interview Monday night over the Boston television station WHDH on the program "Channel 5 Reports."

Asked by the interviewer whether, despite the legal fight, there was a possibility of compromise, Kennedy replied: "Let's hope so."

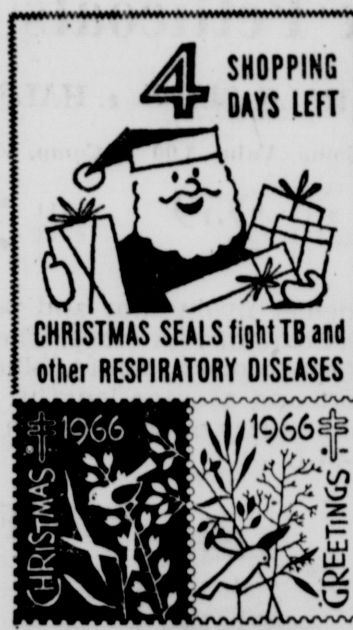

A spokesman for Look magazine, one of the two publishers named last Friday in a suit filed by Mrs. John F. Kennedy to block publication of the book, said today "informal communications" between the two opposing sides are still continuing in efforts to settle the case out of court. A hearing on Mrs. Kennedy's suit has been set for Dec. 27.

per & Row, the other publisher named in Mrs. Kennedy's suit, issued a statement Monday defending his firm's decision to publish the book, "The Death of a President," by author William Manchester.

Canfield said: "In the interest of historical accuracy and of the people's right to know the true facts of the awesome tragedy, we have the right to publish the book." Kennedy family to request Mr. Manchester to write his book and us to publish it — we join with him in defending the book's right to live."

In reply, a spokesman for the Kennedy family, issued a statement saying: "No amount of rhetoric about 'historical accuracy' or the public's 'right to know' can alter the nature of this controversy — whether Mr. Manchester and the publishers broke the written agreement, from which treachery enormous profits will apparently flow."

Canfield said that "understandably, the members of the Kennedy family were unwilling to read the manuscript themselves and hence they designated representatives to do this for (Continued on Page 12, Col. 3)

Hints from Heloise

by Heloise Cruse

When my little girl was an infant, we lived in a two-story house. I always kept some of her clothes in the kitchen downstairs, so I wouldn't have to run up and down the steps every time I changed her.

Since I had only one shelf I could spare in my cupboard, I bought vegetable bins and stacked them on a shelf. I put diapers in one, shirts in another, etc.

Jackie Sutyak

Dear Jackie: I'm sure many mothers will thank you for sending us this terrific timesaving hint.

And to think of all the energy you will save the thousands of other mothers who live in two-story houses. Thank you, you angel.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

To protect my sewing machine cabinet from scratches, I place a folded terry washcloth to the right of the machine head to lay scissors, pins, etc., on.

Mrs. E.N.H.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

Mom ran her legs off in the supermarkets trying to find a dog food our dog hadn't tried. Then she got smart and started buying SOUP!

Boy, does our dog go for it. Now, all mom gets is soup.

pours one-half can into the dog's bowl, and adds some warm water!

She gets the kind with a meat flavor.

Ellen Jahey

Dear Heloise:

When our meal is over and the mashed potatoes are still warm, I shape them into patties for frying later.

It is much easier than shaping them from cold potatoes.

Mrs. A. J.

Dear Heloise:

I was putting my clothes in the automatic washer recently, when the attendant said: "What on earth are you doing?"

I was putting in three pair of white rubber boots. They came out clean inside and out. No more dirt rings around the legs!

She said this was one for the "Heloise" column, so here it is.

Dixie Croyle

This will work, Gals, but be sure and use tepid water, because hot water might deteriorate rubber boots or the lining.

Also, I suggest that you throw in a bath towel at the same time, as the roughness of the terrycloth will buff against the rubber, and do a better job of cleaning.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Why not think about using nylon net to wrap Christmas presents?

I bought red and green net last year and after wrapping a gift in plain paper, I then place it on a piece of net and gather the edges up towards the center. If the box is white, as many are, you don't even have to wrap it with paper.

This will make a fluffiness on top and all you do is use a short piece of ribbon to tie the gathered part.

Sure saves expensive ribbon and the greatest part of it is that some lucky friend will have a piece of wonderful nylon net to use in her kitchen.

We typed a little poem on pieces of leftover Christmas cards last year, which said:

This net is from Mary Who loves you the most, It cleans your pots and pans As if it were a ghost, Why work so hard The whole day through? When you use it, think of me 'Cause I'll be thinking of you.

Candis Green

Dear Heloise:

I had holes drilled through the "legs" of straight clothespins so that when I put them over the clothesline I can slip the hanger hooks through the hole to hang clothing on the lines.

These pins last indefinitely and could be painted a bright color and placed in the regular clothespin bag, to be available whenever needed.

Charge 4th Man In $27,000 Job At Buffalo Bank

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A fourth man stood charged today in the $27,000 robbery of a bank branch after he surrendered Monday at the Buffalo FBI office.

He is Robert Jordan, 23, formerly of Buffalo, now reportedly of Boston, Mass., police said. Jordan was sent to the Erie County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bail Monday after arraignment of federal bank robbery charges before U.S. Commissioner Edmund F. Maxwell.

The charges against him and the other three stem from the robbery Dec. 9 of an east side branch of the Manufacturers & Traders Trust Co.

The others, arrested Saturday, are Robert A. Huitt, 23, Harry Stokes, 25, and Robert M. Ricks, 21, all of Buffalo.

A state charge of first-degree robbery against Huitt was dismissed at his arraignment in City Court Monday to let the federal case take precedence. The state charge involved the $2,600 robbery of a housing-project office here Nov. 2, a crime in which Jordan also was involved, police said.

Two men, who police said were Huitt and Jordan, entered the bank with one stationing himself at a window. The other shoved a cloth bag and a note at two tellers, demanding that they fill the bag with money, detectives said.

The two then left without alarming any of the bank's customers or other employees, they said.

Stokes drove the getaway car, police said, and Ricks, who is charged with conspiracy, helped plan the robbery.

CHRISTMAS TREE SAFETY

It is one of life's cruel ironies that the Christmas tree, the very symbol of joy in this most joyous season, also can become a focal point of tragedy. Be it fir, spruce or pine, it has been taken from its natural home in the woods where it was bathed in sunshine and able to absorb nutrients and moisture from the soil. In our home, this glistening evergreen is peculiarly vulnerable to fire.

This is not true to as great an extent as in the days of tree candles. Yet the hazard remains great. Fortunately, it can be minimized if householders will take sensible precautions.

The location of the tree is important. It should be kept away from areas of heavy traffic in the home and away from radiators, fireplaces, television and other appliances. The tree stump should be cut diagonally and kept in water while in your home. The wiring of tree lights should be checked with care to forestall short circuits. Decorations that might easily catch fire should be discarded. Always turn the lights off when leaving the home.

Following these simple rules will help to keep the holiday a happy one.

LEGACY OF JOY TO THE AGES

The king of animated cartoonists is dead, and we cannot say, "Long live the king," for there is no one to replace him.

Walt Disney belongs in a category by himself. Only a few other names qualify for the particular pantheon he has entered—names like Hans Christian Andersen and the Brothers Grimm (three men whose stories Disney brought alive through his magic).

Walt Disney not only founded a new art form and a whole industry as a pioneer in animated cartooning, he created a family of animal characters who have become an inseparable part of the folklore of America and whose names are known the world over. Yet even this is insignificant next to the laughter and delight he brought to millions upon millions of children and adults, both in his cartoons and in films.

Walt Disney was a dealer in fantasy, a merchant of dreams, a dispenser of joy. Generations of children to come will pay him the homage he deserves. This is perhaps the greatest fame any man could ever hope to achieve.

POTENT AUTO SAFETY PUSH

As part of implementing the 1966 Highway Safety Act, the government has proposed a nine-point program, including such things as:

Eye examinations for all drivers, helmets for motorcyclists and their passengers, mandatory checking of drivers' prior records before issuing new licenses, driver training programs and yearly auto inspections.

In connection with the latter, it is interesting to note that while only 20 states have any kind of motor vehicle inspection requirement, every one of the 50 has severe laws against pornography, even though the number of people killed by dirty books is somewhat less than those done in by cars.

The states are going to have to comply, however. If they don't, not only will they continue to lose lives unnecessarily but they will also stand to forfeit a portion of their federal highway fund.

Money talks, even if dead drivers don't.

COST IS THE SAME

In the interests of enhancing its image as your friendly neighborhood tax collector and making taxpaying as easy as possible, the Internal Revenue Service is going to experiment with a friendly version of Form 1040.

This will be known as Form 1040Q (for questionnaire and will be tried out on some 60,000 friendly folk in six southwestern states. If they like it, the rest of us will have the option of using it when we report our friendly income for 1967.

The friendly version has seven pages instead of the old, unfriendly form's two. But that's because it takes more space to ask such friendly questions as, "Do you wish this to be a joint return?" than just to order curtly: "Check one."

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

ARE THE DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS TRADING TACTICS

What goes on here? Always, in the past, the Democratic Party has seemed to be proof against divisiveness on election day. Southern Bourbons, northern labor leaders, corrupt big city machines and idealistic professorial egg heads have closed ranks time after time to produce national Democratic victories. The Republicans, on the other hand, have specialized in cutting each other up. Dick Nixon and Barry Goldwater have been outstanding victims of this deplorable Republican habit.

But now there seems to be a switch in the making. Real divisiveness is invading the Democratic fold while the Republicans are taking their first faltering steps toward national unity.

The Democratic divisiveness is taking the form of a battle between the generations. For some time now the organization known as the College Young Democrats, which is the 35,000-member "baby" division of the Young Democrats of America, has been "off" Lyndon Johnson because of the Vietnamese War. The executive committee of the college group, which claims to be represented on 700 U.S. campuses, recently adopted a resolution condemning the bombing of North Vietnam and calling for peace with the Viet Cong. When the college group tried to get distribution for their resolution through national party mimeograph channels, the Democratic National Committee stepped in with an order to cease and desist. Gary Winget, the executive secretary of the College Young Democrats, was dismissed by order of the Democratic National Committee, which was in a position to act simply because it had been paying Winget's salary.

This has caused a terrific under-the-surface rumormongering in the younger Democratic ranks. Dale Wagner, an American University student who is chairman of the College Young Democrats, has refused to budge—and, since he is an unsalaried officer, the Democratic National Committee can't very well impose its discipline on him. The gap between the College Young Democrats and their parent body in Washington, D. C., may conceivably be papered over. A statement issued by the Democratic National Committee insists that an attempt has been made to "take with good grace the conduct of its youthful critics." But the statement deplores the anti-Vietnamese War resolution of the College Young Democrats for being issued at a time when "responsible leaders of the national party are spending many hours planning a responsible course for the youth division." This is schoolmarmish language of a sort that campus radicals do not ordinarily swallow. The probability is that many of them will quit the Democratic Party rather than take top-down dictation from Washington.

In the Republican Party, Senator Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania has urged top-down discipline for curbing those whom he calls "bigoted" and "immature" young "hellions" in the Republican ranks. But Ray Bliss's Republican National Committee has not seen fit to act on the Scott complaints. Since the Republicans gained a lot of mileage in the recent elections wherever they followed Ronald Reagan's "Eleventh Commandment" ("Thou shalt not speak evil of any Republican"), the Republican high command is desisting from taking sides. The decision, apparently, has been to let anyone have his pre-primary say, the tacit understanding being that on election day party support will go to whoever is successful in winning a nomination.

The executive committee of the 500,000-strong Young Republican National Federation, agreeing with the Reagan "Eleventh Commandment," finds "divisiveness" in Senator Scott's recommendation. According to the Young Republicans, the Ripon book is "unrepresentative," "unfair," and a slander on the endeavors of national chairman Ray Bliss and such House of Representatives party leaders as Gerald Ford and Melvin Laird. "It is clear," so the Young Republican statement reads, "that the Ripon Society, Scott axis has embarked on a campaign of 'rule or ruin' in the Republican party, and has sought to make the Young Republican National Federation the whipping boy for its attacks."

This is "spreading ill" of Senator Scott for "speaking ill." The important difference between the Democrats and the Republicans is that Democratic divisiveness is causing bloodshed on high party levels, while the Ray Bliss Republican organization is letting the Ripon Society and the Young Republicans sputter now, the feeling being that the "Eleventh Commandment" will be obeyed once there is a 1968 scent of victory in the air. New Treatments May Alleviate Meniere's Disease

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I have Meniere's disease and have been taking histamine injections for over two years. Is there any cure for this condition?

A—In Meniere's disease or labyrinthitis the victim often has ringing in the ears for several months before any other symptoms appear. As the disease progresses he may complain of dizziness, nausea, hearing loss, headache and earache. Many victims of this disease are relieved when they are reassured that the disease is not a threat to life and that the attacks will subside in time.

During the attacks bed rest, a sedative and an anesthetic drug are helpful. If the ringing is severe the drug may be given by rectum or injected into a vein. To forestall or minimize future attacks a salt-poor diet and moderate restriction of fluids are advised. Drugs to dilate the arteries, diuretics (water pills), anti-histamines and supplementary vitamins are of value.

In some victims this line of treatment proves inadequate and surgery is advised. Surgical destruction of part of the inner ear will relieve the dizziness but will leave the patient deaf. Selective destruction of some inner ear structures by means of ultrasound is more conservative—the hearing is spared but it succeeds in relieving the dizziness in only about 75 per cent of cases.

Two new treatments for Meniere's disease have been reported. Betahistine hydrochloride (Serc) taken daily for four or five months has brought about relief from all the symptoms except earache. Doctors who have used it claim that this treatment relieves patients who would otherwise have had to be operated on.

The other innovation, Innovar, is a combination of two drugs. When it is injected into a vein during an acute attack it relieves all the symptoms within 10 minutes and assures the victim of at least a week without a recurrence of the attacks.

Q—My daughter is having trouble with her inner ear which causes her to lose her balance. What treatment would you recommend?

A—Your daughter may have Meniere's disease. Other possible causes, such as exposure to chemical fumes, allergies and anemia should be ruled out before any treatment is prescribed.

The IRS doesn't say how many more man-hours will be required by its friendly personnel to process the longer friendly forms. In view of the prospect of a tax increase to finance increased government spending, a lot of people may be moved to suggest that the best way the government could generate friendly feelings would be to cut its operating expenses and leave taxes alone, if not lower them.

It's Hobson's choice—friendly Form 1040Q or unfriendly Form 1040. In either case, you take your pick and you pay your money—the same unfriendly amount of money.

Washington News

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington Correspondent

COLORADO SPRING, Colo. (NEA)—Recently a starry New England conservative told a moderate Republican leader he believes that Gov. George Romney of Michigan would beat Richard Nixon in a 1968 presidential primary in New Hampshire.

Though this is the purest conjecture about a very distant political event, it may serve to put in somewhat better perspective the rather misleading presidential responses of many governors and other political figures who met here for two days.

The words "Romney is in deep trouble" were heard with surprising frequency in talks with some of these men. They reflected largely his continuing fuzziness on the big issue of Vietnam, his delay in making known his 1968 intention, his frosty moralizing.

These responses are being underscored heavily by veteran political reporters who hammer at Romney in press conferences and in print. Since his smashing reelection a month ago he has not had a "good press."

Even Romney's staunchest friends among the many moderate governors assembled in Colorado found themselves stressing the negative.

Yet, significantly, a top aide to one of these sought out this reporter to correct the too negative impression he felt he had registered in an earlier talk.

His final message, mirroring his governor's outlook, was this: Romney, for all his publicized shortcomings, is still the moderate's best-positioned and strongest prospect—No. 1 in polls among Republicans and currently the one man placing ahead of President Johnson in voter samplings.

From this incident, supported by other conversations at the conference, the notion emerges that Romney may not really be in anywhere near as deep trouble today as his critics—and some friends—suggest.

He does stand high in the polls; he is moving about; his campaign is visibly rolling (though its pace and character do not seem to please all observers).

Possibly most telling of all, his image with the general public continues to be far, far stronger than it is with the political sophisticates he encounters at closer range. Voters watching him on television can believe that "Hail to the Chief" could be his song. Aggressively he looks the part.

Obviously Romney has many huge tasks ahead—maintaining himself in the polls, developing some plausible specifics to fill the aching void on Vietnam, getting better organized to win friends and, ultimately, 1968 convention delegates.

To that end, he probably has to win primaries in places like New Hampshire and wide-open Oregon, to mention just two. Despite the early talk of a rash of favorite sons and a "brokered convention," he may find sufficient opportunities to build momentum. If he does, conservatives might polarize strongly around Nixon or California's Ronald Reagan to narrow the field tightly by convention time.

The further point must be made: The stress on Romney negatives at the Colorado meeting occurred in unreal isolation. Nixon could falter quickly if he fails to cast off the scent of the loser in 1968. Reagan, untested as governor, and Sen-elect Charles Percy of Illinois, a glamorous figure seen only distantly so far, might themselves reveal critical handicaps if exposed to the close scrutiny riveted today upon Romney.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Just received an interesting item from Mrs. Robert G. (Loretta) Johnston of Delray Beach, Fla. It is one of the official post cards (No. 18) of the Hudson-Fulton celebration which took place on our Hudson and in Kingston in 1909. This shows a colorful float, of the Bronx's Treaty with the Indians. There is a three-sided house, with straw roof and brick chimney and inside on a large homemade table the Indians and the colonists can be seen signing and making their mark on paper. A well for water is outside, several farm animals and a sort of low stockade fence decorated the float. On the back of the card it states "Bronck's Treaty." In 1639 Jonas Bronck, after whom the Borough of the Bronx and the Bronx River was named, purchased land in that borough from the Indians. In 1642, after many hostilities, a treaty with the Indians was signed in his house. I just wonder if the Indians accepted the first purchase price, like the folks in Rondout had to do from the Urban Renewal authorities, or is that what made the hostilities. These cards were published by Redfield Brothers, Inc. authorized publishers, 311 West 43rd Street, New York City. This is the only official Hudson-Fulton card I have.

I received two post card photographs from Great Neck. One shows about a dozen men in civilian clothes and they are holding up square bags on which is printed "U. S. A., Ulster County, N. Y." They are well dressed in suits, and hats, and because of their clothes and high collars I think they were recruits from World War I, and perhaps standing in front of the Broadway Armory. I will show this card to someone from the First World War. These are not teenagers, but men.

The other photograph sent from Great Neck, shows men in uniform, and from their uniform they are of World War I. Some of the faces look familiar. There is one sailor in the uniform picture, standing in front, with his arms crossed. Perhaps a reader has these cards and knows more about it. There is no clue of a professional photographer on the back who took them. No doubt some members of the Legion of Kingston or Vets of Foreign Wars from the first World War would recognize someone.

The New York State Department of Commerce Division of Public Information sent me their packets weekly. They even send Season's Greetings with this message: May 1967 be a year of riches in good health, peace of mind, gentle relaxation, greater knowledge, and financial resources to help you make the most of them all. The powers that we elect should really give us all that, but all we seem to get is higher taxes, more rules and regulations, papers to fill out, and very little peace of mind or gentle relaxation.

Once in a while they have an interesting item like W. C. Fields, the late comedian. It seems he was always afraid he would run out of funds in some small town, so he opened bank accounts under assumed names all over the country as he traveled in vaudeville. He never got around to using up all his accounts, and when he died, it is felt there were hundreds of such accounts left. Since he never told anyone where they were, they are now abandoned property. In New York State they find their way to the New York State Comptroller, but they can be reclaimed if proof of estate or heir ownership can be given. In case any of the readers have such accounts you can get in touch with the New York State Comptroller, State Office Building, Albany, N. Y. 12224.

Sen. Stennis Paints Gloomy Viet Picture, May Get Worse

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Realism is often defined as a facing up to the facts. And that's what the American people need to do in order to understand the Vietnam War and its possible consequences.

The first and most important fact is that, while the battle area itself is a small country, North Vietnam could not fight the war without the help of the Soviet Union and Red China. Yet nobody in the United Nations or our own government is laying out the facts to the world or urging that "sanctions" and trade embargoes be imposed so that the majority, instead of a minority, may rule in the entire Vietnam territory.

The latest analysis of the status of the war in Vietnam came a few days ago from Senator John C. Stennis, Democrat, one of the most conscientious members of Congress. He is a judicial-minded man who weighs facts carefully. He served nine years as a circuit court in Mississippi before being elected to the United States Senate 19 years ago. He has the respect of members of both parties. He has access to the information and opinions of the high military men in the Pentagon, because he is chairman of an important subcommittee of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Here are some of the things Senator Stennis said to the Chamber of Commerce in his own state on Dec. 13 in a speech which didn't get nationwide reporting:

"This war has already cost 6,000 American lives and billions of American dollars and the end is not yet in sight. . . . The Allied forces in South Vietnam — South Vietnamese, American, Korean and other friendly forces — now number about one million men. They are opposed by a combined Viet Cong and North Vietnamese force of less than 300,000. However, this does not tell the entire story.

"While the battle goes well for us in major military engagements, the effort to stamp out the many strong guerrilla forces goes grindingly slow. These guerrillas are far from being defeated. . . .

"The enemy refuses to recognize the fact that he faces defeat. We are faced with a tough, disciplined, well-trained and determined enemy who is still full of fight. He believes that time is on his side and that we will become discouraged and war weary and will pull out rather than continue to pay the high price.

"In short, there is every indication that the Communists have no intention of abandoning the fight or seeking peace through negotiations. On the contrary, there is definite evidence that North Vietnam is preparing for an even longer war, and to this end is increasing its forces and taking steps to improve its command and control structure over its forces in the field.

"Therefore, despite the fact that this year we have exacted more than 185,000 casualties from the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese in killed, wounded, captured and defectors, the enemy force has increased rather than decreased."

Senator Stennis declared that it now has become necessary for the executive branch of our government to "formulate the long-range policy that is necessary to win this war" and to enunciate it so the American people and the world will be fully informed. He added that the enemy "should also be clearly advised of our long-range policy and objectives, and of the fact that we are determined to win."

Senator Stennis believes that, "whatever the cost," the United States and its allies "must stay in Vietnam until peace is achieved." He insists also that the Port of Haiphong and other Ports in North Vietnam "should be closed off and that 'the method of doing this should be left to the judgment of our military authorities'."

To meet the growing costs of the Vietnam War, Mr. Stennis suggests that "We should put aside at least the major segments of the Great Society program and the so-called war on poverty."

Many other Senators and Representatives feel the same way, and the White House at present sees no honorable course except to continue the fighting so as to prevent a breakdown of American influence in the world. If America falters, Red China and the Soviet Union would be tempted to embark on military adventures which could bring on a third world war.

Must we have a Pearl Harbor to recognize our enemies of today?

—Gen. Wallace Greene Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps.

For one thing, the younger people of today do not know anything but big government, and they do not have the same objections to it that many older people do. You tell them about the "good old days," and they don't know what you are talking about.

Walt Disney's True Life Adventures

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 20, the 354th day of 1966. There are 11 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history.

On this date in 1860, South Carolina seceded from the Union—the first state to do so.

On this date:

In 1803, the United States took possession of Louisiana which it had purchased from France for $15 million.

In 1813, Congress established a system of Internal Revenue.

In 1835, Texas declared its independence of Mexico.

In 1922, Russian republics combined into the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

Ten years ago — The Japanese Parliament elected Tanzan Ishi bashi premier. The new 72-year old premier was considered less pro-American than his predecessor, Ichiro Hatoyama.

Five years ago — The U.N. General Assembly, over the strong protests of the Soviet Union, voted in favor of a resolution calling on Communist China to free Tibet.

One year ago — Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai declared the only way to peacefully end the Vietnam war was through the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Vietnam.

Disney Talent Puzzled Admirers and Critics

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
Second of five articles on Walt Disney

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The wellspring of Walt Disney's unique talent long puzzled both admirers and critics.

Certainly nothing in his family background provided any hint of future greatness as creator of a new art form, the animated film, as well as superlative showman in a variety of other mediums. He came from humble beginnings.

His father was Irish stock, born in Canada and raised in a big family on a Kansas farm. Elias Disney dabbled in a variety of enterprises, usually with scant success. He was a carpenter-contractor in Chicago, where Walt was born. Later the elder Disney went broke with a Missouri farm, then became a newspaper dealer in Kansas City, Mo.

Flora Call Disney, Walt's

mother, came from simple German stock; she was a patient, understanding woman who tempered her husband's harshness toward their four sons. They also had a daughter.

Neither parent was artistic in nature, and Elias Disney displayed impatience with Walter's ambitions to study art.

"But I wanted to draw," he told me a few months ago as he reminisced about his youth. "The thing I wanted most was to be a political cartoonist. My father fancied himself as kind of a Socialist, and he subscribed to Socialist newspapers of the time. I studied their cartoons and tried to copy the style."

"After I got back from the war (in 1919), I tried to get a job cartooning for the Kansas City Star. The editor liked my samples, but the paper already had a political cartoonist."

Historians may ruminate on what might have happened if Disney had won employment as a political cartoonist. But he didn't. He found a job with an advertising agency, drawing signs and posters for catalogues. He was dropped in the seasonal slump following Christmas.

Disney's next job started his career. He was hired by the Kansas City Film Ad Co. to draw advertising cartoons that "lived" in movie houses. Young Walt found the oldtimers in the firm using the old method of cutting out paper figures, sticking them in the joints and making them move.

"I thought there must have been a better way to make cartoons," he said later, "so I went to the public library and asked for all the books they had about cartooning. I found a better method, showed it to the boss and he installed it."

The restless urge to do things better marked the Disney style throughout his career. He was constantly tinkering with the animation medium. He introduced sound to cartoons with "Steamboat Willie" starring Mickey Mouse in 1928.

"Flowers and Trees" in 1932 brought the first cartoon in color. Another notable advance was "The Three Little Pigs" in 1933; it was the first time well-rounded characters had been used in cartoons. "Snow White" (1937) marked the triumph of character, this time in the human form. The art of animation reached its heights in "Fantasia" (1940).

Walt Disney continued making animated features, but he realized he had extended the medium to its creative limits. He turned his vast energies to the limitless possibilities of making films with real actors.

Where did he get his capacity for hard work?

"My father came from a big family, and all of them had to help out on the farm," Walt told me. "When my brothers and I were growing up, my father expected all of us to pitch in and work, too. It became a way of life for us, and I never knew anything else."

Criticize West For Actions in Fitzsimmons Case

Chorus Presents Program Tonight At Local School

As Woodstock Supervisor William R. West's first year in office drew to a close, several of his recent actions were attacked by two prominent Democrats here.

In an open letter to all citizens of Woodstock, Democratic Town Chairman John O. Bonilla and Democratic Club president Peter P. Grad criticized West on his public stand in the Luni adoption case, which has drawn national attention to Ulster County, and lashed out against the entire Woodstock Town Board on two other matters.

Said the open letter: "Just in case residents might have missed these few facts, at the Dec. 9 Ulster County Board of Supervisors meeting, Bill West (our Town Supervisor):

"Voted 'No' on a motion to postpone a vote on the reappointment of Joseph Fitzsimmons as Ulster County Welfare Commissioner.

"Voted 'Yes' on a motion to reappoint Mr. Fitzsimmons as Ulster County Commissioner of Welfare for another five years. West made a public statement in support of Fitzsimmons.

"Requested the chair to evict the audience.

"Also of interest—Work on the town garage was in full progress one week after the town board authorized unlimited funds for the job. Spent or committed to date: $15,000."

The Bonilla-Grad letter also noted that the Village Green benches are still "under repair" some five months after they were removed from the Green for bracing.

Candlelight and Carols for Shady

The Rev. Ademar R. Bryon will bring a short Christmas message to the annual Christmas Eve Candlelight Service scheduled for Dec. 24 at 7:30 p. m. in the Methodist Church of Shady. The public may attend.

The service is sponsored by the church choir and is entitled "A Service of Carols and Candles." Special Yuletide music will be given by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Edward Balmer, church organist.

The church will be decorated by members of the choir.

Following the Christmas Eve service, the choir will proceed on a tour of carol singing to the homes of shut-ins, and will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Reynolds following the carol singing.

Lutheran Church Notes Services

The traditional Christmas Eve Candlelight service will be held at Christ's Lutheran Church, Woodstock at 11 p. m. The singing of Christmas carols, a brief meditation by Pastor Krapf and the lighting of candles will mark this celebration of the birth of Christ. With Dennis Mellander at the organ, the congregation will sing "Joy to the World," "Hark! the Herald Angels Sing," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "What Child Is This?," and "Silent Night." The lighting of candles symbolizes Christ, the light of the world and the calling of Christians to let their light so shine before men that God may be glorified.

On Christmas Day, there will be a special service at 9:30 a. m. for students of the church school, their parents and all others who wish to attend. The color filmstrip "The Christ Child Comes to Christian Homes" will be featured at this service. At 11 a. m., the regular service will be held. A most cordial welcome is extended to all to attend these services.

Christian Science
"God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ."

His passage from II Corinthians will be the golden text for the lesson-sermon titled, "Christian Science," to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday, Christmas Day.

Scriptural passages include the story of the birth of Jesus and the adoration of the Magi as well as many references to Jesus' healing ministry.

One of the related selections from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will be this: "Christ's Christianity is the chain of scientific being reappearing all ages, maintaining its obvious correspondence with the Scriptures and uniting all periods in the design of God."

Sunday services and Sunday school in Woodstock are held at 11 a. m.

Charged in Stabbing
BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A charge of first-degree manslaughter has been placed against Prince Nelson Jr., 25, in the stabbing of another man after an argument in a pool hall, police said.

Nelson, of Buffalo, was accused in the death last Friday of James Elston, 20, also of Buffalo, after he surrendered Monday at police headquarters, accompanied by a lawyer, detectives said.

Elston was found on the porch of a home whose occupant heard him moaning. He was dead when police arrived.

Nelson's address was listed as 434 Sycamore St.

Dutchess County To Start Bidding On Health Center

Bids are expected to go out the first of the year for the proposed building of the Dutchess County Mental Health Center. Completion of the building is anticipated for the end of 1968. A bond issue for $600,000 was recently approved by the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors. The center will be built on a five-acre tract between North Road and Delafield Street, in the Township of Poughkeepsie. The land presently belongs to Marist College, but the college has indicated that it would be willing to deed the land to the county for the mental health project. Seven units will be housed in the building. They are: the offices of the Dutchess County Mental Health Board; Dutchess County All-Purpose Mental Health Clinic; a branch of the Astor Child Guidance Clinic; a psychiatric Day Care Center (day hospital); Rehabilitation Program Incorporated; Dutchess County Alcoholism Clinic; and the Dutchess County Mental Health Society, which will provide the education program required as part of a comprehensive community mental health center.

Supervisor Jack Quartararo, Republican, Sixth Ward of Poughkeepsie, chairman of the special mental health center committee, has been a strong advocate of the center. Chairman of the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors David C. Schoentag said that he understands that the cost of construction will be shared equally by the federal, state, and local government, with each paying one-third.

Jerome Reznick, director of Rehabilitation Programs Incorporated, said that agency now owns buildings at 104 Hooker Avenue and at 26 Forbus Street, and rents space at 13 Washington Street for a woodworking shop, all in Poughkeepsie.

"We are serving more and more people all the time," he said, "and the present space is inadequate. We certainly would welcome a chance to locate in a community mental health center."

Bids RFK Halt Criticism of N. Y. Surrogate Courts

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The chairman of the State Senate's Judicial Committee has suggested that U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy restrain himself from further criticism of the state's surrogate courts.

Republican Sen. John H. Hughes of Syracuse said Monday he had written the Democratic senator that "your general recommendations...are in conflict with many distinguished experts in the specialized field of surrogates practice. But this can be charged to your lack of experience."

Hughes said he hoped Kennedy would "find it possible to withhold further comment until the commission has assembled the facts and made appropriate recommendations to the Legislature."

Hughes was referring to a joint legislative commission on court reorganization, headed by Judge Henry L. Ughetta of the Appellate Division of State Supreme Court. He also wrote Ughetta. In his letter to the jurist, Hughes suggested that surrogates be required to file with the commission data relative to the appointments of special guardians and the amount, exceeding $100, received by the special guardians for October, November and December of this year.

Kennedy has been sharply critical of the surrogates and has suggested that public guardians be hired. Surrogates appoint guardians to handle details of an estate following a death.

Kennedy has said that in many cases the surrogates appoint lawyer guardians as favors.

Finance Firm Santa

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The telephone in a finance company's office rang and a child's voice asked for Santa Claus.

In the next few hours, 75 to 100 children telephoned their Christmas requests to Jim McDonald, the company president. "We just had to lay business aside," said McDonald. "The business of Santa Claus comes first."

Boy Scouts Clear Minnewaska Trail In Litter Project

The roadside and scenic lookouts (otherwise known as scenic dumps) are still loaded with trash along the Minnewaska Trail (Route 44-55), but there is less trash than before. Approximately 50 Scouts and 12 Scouters from 6 Boy Scout Troops of the Minnewaska Trail District, Rip Van Winkle Council, spent five hours on December 10 removing trash of all descriptions from along this scenic route.

Old beer cans, bed springs, even an old refrigerator were among the rubbish removed. Units participating were Troops 22 (Kerhonkson), 70 (Highland), 72 (Marlboro), 73 (Milton), 76 (Wallkill) and 172 (New Paltz). The project was coordinated by Harold Smith of Kerhonkson, John Halverson of New Paltz and John Helmer, District Scout Executive.

The purpose of the project is to develop a spirit of service and good citizenship among the Scouts participating. The project coordinators noted that any litterbug who still wants to use this area as a dump should make sure that none of these Scouts are observing. Scouts are supposed to be courteous, at all times, but certain circumstances may tax the politeness of the most restrained Boy Scout.

Goldfish were first bred in the U.S. in 1878.

Driver Is Injured, Feline's Life Saved

Evelyn Madlener, 38, of Box 496, New Paltz, was injured shortly before midnight Monday, but he saved the life of a cat, according to a report to Highland State Police.

Trooper Robert Whalen, who investigated with Trooper Thomas Starace, said Madlener reported he was driving west on Forest Glen Road, Town of Gardner, when a cat ran in front of the vehicle as he approached the crest of a hill.

Madlener said he swerved to avoid the animal and lost control. The vehicle overturned. Madlener was treated at Kingston Hospital for lacerations of the face.

Mrs. Powell Faces Quiz Today on Salary of $20,500

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Administration subcommittee is scheduled to question Mrs. Adam Clayton Powell today about the salary of up to $20,500 a year she received while listed as an employee of her congressman husband.

The panel's chairman said it is checking allegations that Mrs. Powell, who lives in Puerto Rico, performed no official duties in either the Washington or New York offices of Powell, a Harlem Democrat.

Mrs. Powell, the former Yvette Marjorie Flores, was on Powell's staff before their marriage and afterward, with pay increases.

The subcommittee decided, however, that Powell himself will not be questioned. It rejected conditions the congressman, now in the Bahamas, set for his appearance.

The subcommittee is looking into the finances of Powell's congressional office and of the House Education and Labor Committee, which Powell chairs.

Talking with newsmen, Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, rejected complaints Powell made in a letter setting out his requirements for an appearance.

Hays, chairman of the investigating subcommittee, said it has not pried into Powell's private life or asked members of his staff personal questions.

"In New York Monday, Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., who has said he will try to bar Powell from taking the oath for a new term when Congress reconvenes Jan. 10, assessed his chances of success as "excellent" whereas three weeks ago they were somewhat in doubt. "I said in his letter to the subcommittee he would appear if the group agree also to investigate travel vouchers of other committees," including your own," and travel by all committee chairmen and meanwhile stop questioning employees of the Education and Labor Committee.

Powell sent the letter from his Bahamas vacation home, where he remains while a court order for his arrest is out in New York. He is under jail sentence for criminal contempt of court.

Seabees in Viet Are Building, Not Destroying

DA NANG, South Vietnam (AP) — The Seabees are in South Vietnam in a big way, conducting their own war in reverse, building instead of destroying warehouses, piers, roads, billets and defense positions.

Thirteen-man construction teams fly to all parts of the country to build remote Special Forces camps. At the Dong Xoai camp on June 10, 1965, Construction Mechanic Marvin G. Shields earned the Seabee's first Medal of Honor posthumously for exceptional gallantry during a three-hour Viet Cong attack.

Pacification

The Seabees also are active in pacification, building a school or dam for villagers and teaching trade skills while a Seabee medic holds sick call.

But the nucleus of the Seabees is still the construction battalion — "CB" for short, hence the nickname and the insignia of a bumble bee holding a wrench and machinegun.

The 700-man battalion includes steelworkers, carpenters, plumbers, electricians and engineers. Its equipment operators drive $5 million worth of bulldozers, trucks, earthmovers, cranes and rock crushers. Battalion mechanics keep the equipment in repair.

In an eight-month period, the battalions put up 1,007 cantonments for Marines, 51 warehouses, a television station, roads and a dairy.

Detachments from the battalion now are building a Marine rest- and -recreation center at nearby China Beach, improving the river port at Dong Ha near the demilitarized zone, expanding the Dong Ha Marine field hospital, pouring platforms for 175mm guns on the Cam Lo River near Dong Ha and operating a concrete plant and rock quarry.

One officer of the battalion is particularly proud of the four-mile road the unit built linking the Da Nang air base with the headquarters of the 1st U.S. Marine Division. The construction took place during the monsoon season.

Police Chief Resigns

GLENS FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Charles Matleff, 57, chief of police here since 1967 and a police officer for 31 years, has resigned because of poor health.

The Board of Public Safety accepted the resignation Monday. It is effective Friday.

Matleff has been hospitalized for several months this year. In his absence, Capt. James Dugan has been serving as acting police chief.

Continue Talks Today On Mohawk Line Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of Mohawk Airlines and striking machinists converged here today to continue discussions aimed at ending a 12-day-old strike.

Negotiators for the airline and District 147 of the International Association of Machinists agreed Monday to meet with members of the National Mediation Board here.

About 500 mechanics struck the Utica-based airline Dec. 9 in a dispute over pension plan payments.

In another development, Judge J. Robert Lynch of New York State Supreme Court said the union and the company had agreed to adjourn proceedings on a show cause order brought against the union.

Mohawk had sought to stop the union from what it termed illegal picketing.

A union spokesman denied the charge again Monday night and said the mechanics would continue to picket.

Lynch said either side could resume the court action upon three hours notice to the other side.

Mohawk has grounded its piston-driven aircraft and says it has maintained about 70 per cent of its schedule by using jet planes.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS!

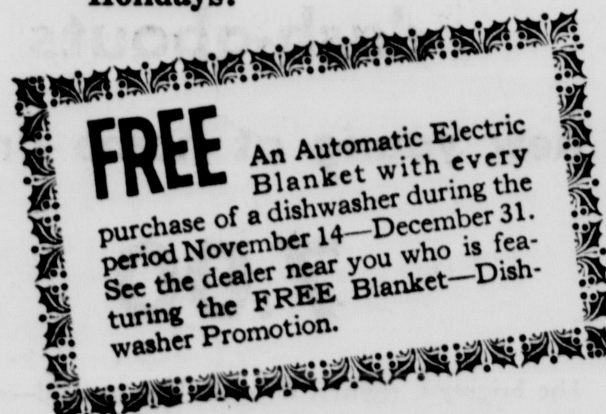

SUPPOSE YOU HAD TO WASH THESE DISHES DURING THE HOLIDAY SEASON?

Well, you will. An average family will clean up just about this much kitchen mess from Thanksgiving thru New Years. That's a lot of clutter—a lot of mess, a whole lot of time you could spend pleasantly or profitably—if you had an Automatic Dishwasher.

A Dishwasher cuts your kitchen cleanup time by about two-thirds, gets dishes sanitary clean, needs no pre-rinsing—gets you out of the kitchen fast.

'67 Explosion?

Warns Anti-U.S. Feeling Rising Now in Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Carlos Lacerda, Brazil's permanent political gadfly, says anti-American feeling is rising in Brazil and may explode next year.

"There is an anti-American movement developing in Brazil that cannot be called communist," Lacerda told newsmen.

"and I believe some of it is justified."

The former governor of Guanabara State, covering Rio de Janeiro and its suburbs, has used the anti-Americanism he described as a weapon to attack the U.S.-backed government of Branco. Lacerda, who helped Castello Branco to power after the 1964 overthrow of President Joao Goulart, has turned against the retired army marshal.

He charges almost daily in fiery articles written for the daily newspaper Tribuna da Imprensa that Castello Branco is "delivering" Brazil to foreigners.

"I believe the Brazilian government is giving too much to some American groups," he says, without defining the groups. He names only a Brazilian capitalist and a Canadian-based power company — Brazilian Traction — when asked for examples.

He warns that President-elect Arthur da Costa e Silva, due to assume power next March, faces trouble.

"In September or October of next year if Costa e Silva keeps to the same line, he will be in bad trouble," Lacerda asserts.

Rome Controversy

Repair Bills Are Scaring Away Church Owners

By JAMES M. LONG

ROME (AP) — Now that there's going to be a costly repair bill to pay, it seems that nobody actually owns two of Rome's most picturesque churches.

The controversy swirls around the famed twin churches of Santa Maria of the Miracles and Santa Maria in Monte Santo. They are almost identical domed churches which Bernini completed in the 17th century on opposite sides of the Corso facing the huge Piazza del Popolo.

Modern construction in the area diverted an underground waterflow which wore away their foundations and threatened the picturesque churches with ruin.

The problem of who will pay the bill has experts thumbing through the archives, but so far no one has been able to pin down exactly who owns the churches.

The Roman Catholic Vicariate of Rome has informed government attorneys that it holds the vestries in trust but can find no documents establishing ownership.

The state, which made sweeping seizures of Church property last century when unification of Italy ended the papacy's temporal power, says it can find no document specifically taking over these two churches.

The financially pressed Rome Government insists they don't belong to the city.

Noted Architect Dies

RANSOMVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Robert F. Beresford, an architect whose credits include the Mayflower Hotel and the Tower Building in Washington, D.C., is dead at the age of 87. Beresford died Monday at Ransomville General Hospital in this Niagara County community where he had been a patient two years. Beresford was a past president of the American Institute of Architects and served on its board of examiners from 1928 to 1948. He also was a former chairman of the Washington Board of Trade. He retired five years ago from the Washington-based firm bearing his name. A native of Audenreid, Pa., he was a 1902 graduate of Princeton University. He leaves a sister, two nephews and a niece. Private funeral services are scheduled Wednesday in Niagara Falls, with burial in Albion, where Beresford once lived.

Newburgh Infant Dies of Beating, Autopsy Indicates

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, N.Y., and Emily Martinez of Old Orchard Beach, died at Biddleford Hospital, where he had been taken early Sunday. Police refused, under Maine law, to identify the juvenile. Police Chief John Clerk said the juvenile is a cousin of Mrs. Martinez and had been babysitting for her Saturday night. Mrs. Martinez, recently divorced, was granted custody of the couple's four children. Clerk said the results of an autopsy Monday indicated the child had been beaten. He said the cause of death might not be available for about 10 days. The German shepherd dog was bred in Germany as an outdoor guard.

Home for Yule Outlook Changes For Job Corps Youth in Pennsy

MARIENVILLE, Pa. (AP) — "Mother will sure be surprised," said James Coleman, 19, of Berlin, N.J. "Somebody thinking about us."

That was Coleman's reaction Monday night when told that residents of this tiny western Pennsylvania community donated $1,600 so Coleman and 76 other corpsmen at the nearby Blue Jay Job Corps center could go home for Christmas.

Several days ago, the boys' chances of being home for Christmas were bleak.

They hadn't been at the camp for six months or more and therefore were ineligible for government travel money. They earned $6.50 a week which didn't leave much to buy a round-trip ticket to places as far away as Maine, Massachusetts, North Carolina, Tennessee and Montana.

Wes Voombs of nearby Warren heard of their plight and led a campaign to buy tickets for the boys.

Murray Hartshorn, camp director, said the boys knew about the drive but "just couldn't quite believe that people would do this for them."

Hartshorn said the center had received scores of invitations from the area for the boys to spend a few days at private homes during the holidays and attend religious services.

"We had many more offerings than we had corpsmen to fill them," he said.

The corpsmen, all of whom are high school dropouts studying mechanics, carpentry and heavy-equipment operation, will leave Tuesday, returning after New Year's Day.

The Kennedy family spokesman continued in his statement, "Mrs. Kennedy spoke directly to Manchester on at least one occasion, outlining her objections to those parts of the manuscript which she felt unnecessarily invaded her privacy and that of her children."

No Access to Script

"And although he (Manchester) agreed to delete them from the published version, neither Manchester nor Harper & Row nor Look magazine has done so, or have they even, in the period of this dispute, permitted Mrs. Kennedy or her representatives access to the manuscript."

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy said from Sun Valley, Idaho, where he is on a winter skiing vacation, that he thought only four pages of the Manchester book were objectionable. He said he agreed material turned over to Manchester on the late president should be kept for posterity — but not for the general public right now.

RFK Echoes Charges

Robert Kennedy also echoed the charges made in the statement issued by the Kennedy family spokesman in New York.

He said the two publishers had forced him and the president's widow into the suit because they had refused to allow representatives of the Kennedy family to see the manuscript until last Friday.

Edward Kennedy said that "there has never been any question on my part or Mrs. Kennedy's or Sen. Robert Kennedy's part" but the book would be published.

He said 10 hours of taped interviews that Mrs. Kennedy gave to Manchester in late 1963 revealed "the most intimate kinds of personal details."

Mrs. Kennedy, he said, allowed the tapings for "background and perspective." He said it was her "very earnest hope" that she would have a say in what would be used.

In her suit, Mrs. Kennedy charged breach of contract, invasion of privacy and infringement of her copyright by unauthorized use of her name in advertisements and promotions.

Look has repeatedly said it is still going ahead with its plans to publish a four-part, 80,000-word serialization of the book beginning with the issue due in newsstands Jan. 10.

Harper & Row plans to bring out the 300,000-word hard-cover book in April.

Use Amplifier

An amplifying system on the rostrum in the Board of Supervisors' meeting room in the County Office Building was placed into use for the first time Monday evening at the public hearing on the 1967 county budget. The installation allows remarks from the chairman to be heard throughout the room. Mikes have been placed on the chairman's platform as well as for the clerk and deputy clerk, each separately controlled. Through amplifiers concealed in the ceiling voice is conveyed to all portions of the large room. Prior to installation of the system it was difficult for the clerk to be heard in the far corners of the meeting room.

Blast May Be Most Powerful Ever in U. S.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A nuclear blast, perhaps the most powerful ever detonated in the United States, was touched off early today in an underground chamber northwest of here.

To observers atop the 2-story Mint Hotel, tallest building in Nevada, the shock wave 30 seconds later was felt as a rolling motion lasting about a minute. Chandeliers swung about two inches.

A Las Vegas radio station reported receiving a call from a woman sitting in her home who said the motion was like that of a boat in water... a slow back-and-forth feeling, with no lilt.

The blast site was 106 miles distant. Shock waves of other powerful underground blasts in past years also have been felt in this gambling center.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the device yielded energy of from 200,000 to 1 million tons of TNT, and was expected to rip a huge cavern under a mesa.

Cost May Be Up

For '67 Yule Mail

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien says Christmas mail is getting through without serious delay.

But it may cost more to mail that Christmas card next year, he hinted.

O'Brien said at a news conference that his department is considering a rate increase, but "no decision has been made."

He said the current year's postal deficit is 10 per cent of its $5.8 billion budget.

O'Brien said Christmas season mail this year will total nearly 9 billion pieces, up 8.9 per cent from last year.

He thanked users for helping the mails by doing such diverse things as adding ZIP codes to addresses and shoveling snow off walks, speeding the postman's rounds.

New Orders Drop

For Durable Goods

WASHINGTON (AP) — New orders for durable goods dropped for the second straight month in November — another sign of an economic slowdown.

The Commerce Department Monday pegged the drop at 3.1 per cent and said the aircraft industry was largely responsible. Earlier figures had shown drops in industrial output, wholesale prices, retail sales and a slower rise in personal income.

The signs appear to reduce chances for a tax increase, say some government analysts.

The government showed one indication it is perhaps worrying less about inflation when it announced plans Monday to sell $1.1 billion of its financial assets. Such sales had been held up as an anti-inflationary tool.

Blames Video Show

For Rash of Calls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency is blaming a television show about an airplane bomb for causing a sharp increase in hoax telephone calls warning about such devices.

The FAA said eight hoax calls have been placed in the last seven days — the same number received for all of November.

The first call in the series came while the National Broadcasting Co. television network was still airing "The Doomsday Flight," a drama Tuesday about a bomb planted in a pilot's briefcase.

The calls involved planes at Detroit, Washington, New York, Los Angeles, Waco, Tex., and Chicago.

Capital Footnotes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

State tax collections have doubled in the past six years to $29.4 billion, says a congressional study.

Twelve per cent of U.S. households have a color television set, says the Census Bureau.

City Court Cases

Peter Ferraro, 26, of Sterling Street, today waived preliminary hearing before City Judge Hubert A. Richter of a malicious mischief charge which is to go to a grand jury.

Ferraro along with Ruth Jenkins, 19, of Liberty Street, and Donald Sickler, 23, of Abbey Street, were arrested after reported trouble at a local restaurant. The latter two were booked for alleged disorderly conduct and Ferraro was also charged with larceny and disorderly conduct charge plus that of mischief.

The latter charge was for reported damage to plumbing in a detention cell, City Hall. The larceny charge was lodged for alleged theft of money from the Vineyard, Fair Street. Hearing of the other charges is set for Dec. 27.

Sickler, who pleaded guilty Dec. 13 to disorderly conduct, is due to be sentenced Saturday, and Ruth Jenkins is due in court Thursday.

Attorney Elmor Nathan appeared with Ferraro today in court and Assistant District Attorney James H. Fisher for the prosecution.

Sickler is also due for another court appearance Friday because of his arrest early today along with James L. McGowan, 19, of 231 Broadway, Port Jervis, for alleged car theft. They were arraigned by state police at

Johnson Calls Mac to Ranch

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson called Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to his Texas ranch today to talk about military spending and national security.

Johnson also arranged a conference with two American diplomats to review Latin-American affairs and discuss tentative planning for a south-of-the-border conference early next year of Western Hemisphere presidents.

McNamara was summoned to advise the chief executive on some of the major defense decisions Johnson must make soon. The biggest of these involves the exact size and scope of the forthcoming defense budget, which is expected to hit $70 billion or more.

Budget-making entails a whole series of related decisions, ranging from future Vietnam war plans to whether the United States should eventually invest up to $40 billion in matching Soviet deployment of antiballistic missiles.

The two visiting diplomats were Lincoln Gordon, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, and Sol Linowitz, ambassador to the Organization of American States.

The new Texas after a Latin-American tour to review Alliance for Progress efforts and advance planning for the hemisphere summit meeting which Johnson will attend.

A definite site and date for the conference has not been announced. Speculation has centered on mid-April in Lima, Peru.

Reverse Conviction

On Nudism Practice

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Mississippi Supreme Court has tossed out the conviction of a woman who practiced nudism in the seclusion of her woodland home.

Without ruling on the merits of sunbathing, the high court said Monday that Mrs. Roy C. Pendergrass had tried to hide rather than indecently expose herself from a part-time preacher who came uninvited into her retreat.

She had been convicted of indecent public exposure in George County, fined $50 and given a 30-day suspended sentence.

The charges stemmed from the visit by the Rev. Dennis McDonald, a shipbuilder who had been an ordained minister about one year. He served the Salem Missionary Baptist church near the Pendergrass property.

The evidence showed that McDonald had to pass "No Trespassing" signs another reading "Blow Your Horn to Enter" and raise the latch on a gate barrier.

The minister stayed nearly 45 minutes trying to persuade the family to join his church.

Justice Tom Brady, in the court's decision, noted that "the record fails to disclose why the Rev. Mr. McDonald did not immediately turn around and leave."

Saves Young Teacher

In Indiana Holocaust

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Authorities today credited a brick mason with saving the life of a young teacher involved in a fiery collision that killed five persons.

Officials said Roy G. Burris, 40, Indianapolis, who had been warned not to exert himself because of a recent heart attack, pulled Sharon Roach, 21, Indianapolis, out of reach of a flaming pool of gasoline.

An 800-gallon gasoline tanker truck attempting to stop for Miss Roach's car, turned into a school parking lot, jackknifed and overturned Monday, police said.

The tank section split spewing flaming fuel across a major city artery jammed with morning rush-hour traffic.

Six vehicles were caught in the 40-foot wall of flame. Four of the dead were trapped in two autos.

The truck driver, Orval Hulley, 51, Indianapolis, died of burns Monday night about 16 hours after the accident.

Blazing gasoline which flowed into sewers forced evacuations in a wide area. More than 7,000 pupils from eight grade schools and many residents of homes and a large apartment complex were evacuated.

The teacher was listed in fair condition. Burris was treated for burns.

Kovacs Estate Dwindles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The estate of the late comedian Ernie Kovacs, once estimated at $2 million, is worth only $16,184, says his widow, actress Edie Adams.

Miss Adams testified in Superior Court Monday that debts and taxes reduced the estate's value. She said many of her late husband's holdings were mortgaged and about $300,000 in unpaid taxes were due when the comedian was killed in an auto accident nearly five years ago.

Radio Society to Meet

The Overlook Radio Society will hold the December meeting Wednesday, Dec. 21 at 7:30 p.m. at Deane's Restaurant, Woodstock. Preparations will be made for the annual banquet meeting to be held in January at Deane's. All persons interested in amateur radio are invited.

Highland and turned over to local detectives. It is alleged that they had taken the car of Supervisor Bowman H. Owen. Town of Hardenbergh, while the latter was at a meeting here.

Must Stand Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge says Bobby Baker must stand trial Jan. 9 on charge of tax evasion, theft and conspiracy.

But U. S. Dist. Judge Oliver P. Gasch ruled Monday that some Baker conversations which were monitored by the FBI cannot be introduced in evidence.

Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats, claimed the grand jury which indicted him was biased by extensive publicity and that his constitutional rights were violated by the FBI's electronic eavesdropping. He also asked for separate trials on the three categories of charges.

Declare Mistrial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A mistrial has been declared in the marijuana case of actor Peter Fonda after a jury was unable to reach a verdict Monday.

The 26-year-old son of actor Henry Fonda had been accused of possessing the drug which police said they found in a house in suburban Tarzana.

The prosecution charged Fonda leased the house and resided there with three friends who were codefendants.

Tight Relationship

SEDONA, Ariz. (AP) — The tie that binds Spec. 4 Michael Hawley in brotherhood with some Montanard tribesmen is a little tight.

So his parents in Sedona, Ariz., are shipping surgical instruments to their soldier son in Vietnam for Christmas.

A tribal chief pointed a brass bracelet on Hawley's wrist in gratitude for the return of a village lad Hawley and some 12 Cavalry buddies had rescued from the Viet Cong.

"It made me feel good to have him do it," Hawley wrote home, but he added the bracelet was very tight and he couldn't get it off.

The instruments are to remedy that dilemma.

High Voltage

DETROIT (AP) — Anyone who tries to steal the bulbs from Mrs. Richard Howells' outdoor Christmas display may have a hair-raising tale to tell.

Angered by the theft of bulbs outside her home, Mrs. Howells has erected this sign. "These lights are high voltage. It may be dangerous. Touch at your own risk."

Kosygin Gets Polite,
Cool Turkish Greeting

ANKARA, Turkey. (AP) — Alexei N. Kosygin arrived today for the first visit by a Soviet premier to Turkey, a member of the North Atlantic alliance. He received a polite but somewhat cool welcome.

Only half a dozen Soviet flags were flying at Ankara's snow-covered airport, one more was on the outskirts and another was in the center of the Turkish capital.

Members of Premier Suleyman Demirel's generally pro-Western and anti-Soviet Justice party were reported divided over Kosygin's visit. Newspaper comment also was divided, with leftist papers enthusiastic and conservative papers wary.

Kosygin is returning a visit Premier Suat Hayri Urganli made to Moscow in 1963. The absence of Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko from the party indicated that the talks during the week-long visit will center mainly on commercial and economic relations between the two neighboring countries.

Charge Dismissed

A stop-sign violation lodged recently against Andrew J. Locicero, 29, of 22 Stuyvesant court today. He was cited after a two-car mishap at Smith Avenue and O'Neil Street.

45-Point Dip Costly For Oneonta Quintet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There are some long faces about a short score among Hartwick's basketball team today.

The Oneonta-based squad, sporting a 105-point-per-game average, scored only 60 points Monday night in losing to Long Island University, which came up with 82.

The loss was Hartwick's first. It had won three.

In other games involving Upstate teams Monday night, St. Bonaventure ran its record to 3-2 with an 80-71 victory over Santa Barbara, Calif.; Canisius downed Western Ontario, 96-62, and Queens beat Oswego State, 62-51.

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Usually the janitors are quick to clean the names and signs from the walls of the boys' restrooms at North Side High School, but one was permitted to remain. A youngster had written: "NOTICE: In the event of an atomic attack the federal ruling against prayer in this school will be temporarily suspended."

• BRIDGE*Safety Play Pays Dividend

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Safety plays are not often made in match point duplicate but if you are in what looks like a very good contract, a safety play might insure a plus score. Sometimes bread cast upon the waters this way returns with dividends.

In the 1938 masters' individual Morrie Ellis, one of the really great players of that day, found himself in a four-spade contract. East won the deuce of hearts lead with the king and returned the eight spot.

Ellis ruffed and studied the hand from all angles. He decided that the normal contract would be three no-trump and that the expected heart lead would hold declarer to nine tricks. Then Ellis counted 10 tricks at spades provided he could start by cashing his ace of diamonds and ace of king of clubs. After that he would make all his trumps separately.

This safety play abandoned all thought of setting up the diamond suit and making five odd with a 3-3 trump break.

Morrie started his safety play by laying down the ace of diamonds. When East dropped the king Morrie saw better things.

He drew trumps and lead the seven of diamonds. West covered with the nine. Morries put on dummy's jack and returned to his hand with a club. A second diamond finesse took care of West's ten and Morrie wound up with a total of 12 tricks consisting of five spades, five diamonds and two clubs.

Decision on Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three railroads seeking inclusion in the Norfolk & Western Railroad will learn Thursday what the Interstate Commerce Commission has decided in the case.

The ICC said Monday it would release its findings Thursday. The agency, however, gave no indication what the report would recommend.

The three railroads are the Erie-Lackawanna, the Delaware & Hudson and the Boston & Maine.

Hearings on the lines' application to join the Norfolk were held between last April 20 and Aug. 10.

To hundreds of telephone users, Brenda Carren is the phone company. She answers their questions about bills, payment arrangements, listings in the directory and other telephone matters. Brenda provides customers with personal-number booklets, directories and duplicate bills. And she helps them get new phones installed.

As a telephone service representative in the local telephone business office, Brenda has to be something of a lady executive, a bit of a diplomat and an expert in phone service, too.

And she is. Like many telephone representatives, Brenda was hired from a select group of applicants and put through an extensive training program—eight weeks in the classroom plus 150 hours advanced job training after she had been on the job a month. And she attends regular meetings each week to discuss customer service.

You talk to someone just like Brenda every time you call your telephone business office and ask for your service representative. Expect a lot from her. We do.

Debuts on ABC

'Dream Girl' Is Rated Boring

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Only a devoted fan of the assorted televised beauty pageants could truly appreciate the new daytime program launched Monday by ABC. It is called "Dream Girl of '67."

In one half-hour, the producers somehow managed to squeeze in most of the worst aspects of the pageants and the clichés of daytime guessing games.

Inspired by Ratings
Inspired by the big Nielsen ratings built by the evening beauty contests, the new show each day will present four comely young women, to contend for "the coveted title of dream girl of 1967." This, should the show last that long, will be awarded at some date in the future.

The young women were paraded self-consciously before three male judges — as usual, actors with movies to plug — and asked questions such as "What would you take with you to live on the moon?" and "What are your beauty secrets?"

The answers were alleged to reveal the contenders' "beauty, intelligence, poise — everything." After that, the girls had to mince around wearing high-style pajamas in a sort of fashion show.

The judges voted one girl in, and she walked proudly down a runway — without the usual tears but every inch a contender for the dream girl crown.

It is a boring show. CBS' musical version of "Jack and the Beanstalk" was a comparatively inexpensive production taped over a year ago for New York broadcast and repeated nationally Monday night. A bland little show specifically designed for tender eyes and ears, there was nothing to make bad dreams.

NBC Leads Nielsen
NBC led the three television networks in the average size of its audiences, according to the national Nielsen report released Monday. During the two-week period ending Dec. 4, NBC had a rating of 20.2, followed by CBS with 18.9 and ABC, 16.9.

NBC's "Bonanza" remained the most popular program, followed by CBS' Red Skelton and Lucy shows. Other programs in the top 10 were CBS' Andy Griffith Show, NBC's Jack Benny special and its Saturday Night Movie, CBS' Jackie Gleason Show, Green Acres and Ed Sullivan Show and NBC's Walt Disney Hour.

Report 2 Upstate Marines Killed In Viet Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Marine corporals from Upstate New York have been killed in action Vietnam, the Defense Department has reported.

David M. Mills, 21, of Mohawk near Utica, was killed last Wednesday while on patrol. James R. Brink, 22, of Syracuse, also was killed Wednesday while on patrol near Phay Bli.

Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mills, enlisted in the Marines in November 1965 and had served in Vietnam since July.

He was a graduate of Mohawk Central High School and had lettered in football, wrestling and baseball.

Brink had been in Vietnam since last January.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brink of Syracuse. He was born in Schenectady.

WW 2 CommandosCoughlin Named To Member Group Of Ranger Unit

Retired Fireman Francis T. Coughlin, veteran of World War II, was elected recently to the membership committee of the Rangers Battalion Association, Northeast Chapter No. 1, which comprises 13 states including the District of Columbia.

Membership of the chapter numbers some 1,500 including military personnel at Fort Bragg. It is expected that Coughlin will be elected chairman of the association's membership committee at a meeting to be held in New York City in 1967.

All Volunteers

Rangers were the American Commandos of World War II, all volunteered men. They consist of six Ranger battalions who fought at Dieppe, France, North Africa, Sicily, Italy and made their mark at Normandy later through France and Germany. The Ranger group are a closely knitted organization of veterans who meet every two years in different cities.

The recent meeting of the Rangers unit was held at the home of Michael Gargas at Newark, N. J., who is president of the Darby Ranger Battalions Association.

Coughlin, who was wounded in action in France during World War II and spent six months in a hospital, attended the Newark meeting. During World War II, Coughlin served with the 5th Ranger Battalion.

At that session plans were formulated for the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the organization's founding, to be held Aug. 3-6 at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York.

The incumbent national president of the Rangers is Leonard Lomell of Toms River, N. J.

Hurt Battling Fire

Coughlin was appointed to the Kingston Fire Department on March 1, 1947. He suffered a back injury several years ago while fighting a raging fire downtown. The injury was impaired at two subsequent fires during one of which he rescued a woman.

Coughlin retired June 5, 1964 at the age of 42 because of the disability. In February, 1965, he was honored at a dinner sponsored by the Kingston Uniformed Fire Fighters Association, Local 461, AFL-CIO. He served several years as secretary of the association and of the Kingston Paid Fire Fighters Benevolent Association.

Three Face Charges In Bartender Shooting

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)— Two teen-age brothers and another young man faced charges of first-degree murder today in the shooting of a bartender.

The three were identified as Jerome Bussy, 19; his brother Delphine, 18, and Henry L. Rogers, 21, all of Buffalo.

Detectives said they surrendered at an east side police station Monday night, 21 hours after an alert for their arrest was broadcast.

The bartender, Nathaniel Jackson, 32, of Buffalo, was killed just after midnight Monday outside the tavern where he worked.

Police said he was shot in the chest and between the eyes during a quarrel of unknown cause.

The Bussy brothers live at 253 Peach St. and Rogers at 143 Peach St.

Dr. Romoda Dies, St. Lawrence Dean

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Dr. Joseph J. Romoda, vice president and dean of St. Lawrence University at Canton, died Monday at Syracuse Memorial Hospital.

Romoda, 59, was hospitalized Saturday after suffering a heart attack during a visit here, university officials said.

He joined the St. Lawrence faculty in 1946 as head of the department of education and was named dean in 1949. He became vice president in 1963.

A native of Chicago, Romoda was a graduate of Syracuse University.

He taught at Webster High School, Webster, before joining St. Lawrence.

Would Analyze Role of Santa

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—"Santa Claus is an American figure" and the nature of the jolly old gentleman's role as the bearer of Christmas gifts could stand more research, a university sociologist said today.

Santa Claus is "not closely related to the old Dutch St. Nicholas, and is somewhat unique," said Warren O. Hagstrom, associate professor of sociology at the University of Wisconsin.

"He and the Three Wise Men are in competition," Hagstrom added. "It's worth looking into—the role of Santa Claus in gift giving."

"Why should parents give presents to their kids in the name of Santa Claus? Gift giving doesn't seem to have much of a role anymore, as it did in ancient families. Now there is a subtle reciprocity expected."

"A gift becomes not subtle at all, but a bribe. The thing with Santa Claus is that a parent's gift is a bribe, but a gift via Santa is morally uncontaminated."

Hagstrom discussed Santa in an interview about his article—entitled "What is the Meaning of Santa Claus?"—in the latest issue of the American Sociologist, a professional quarterly published by the American Sociological Association.

Santa Claus also appears to be puzzling numerous parents, it says, adding: "Casual observation in the degree to which Santa is used as a child control device. Parents tell children that rewards from Santa are contingent upon good behavior. We need information on the social determinants of these aspects of the behavior of Santa Claus."

Hagstrom did not explain how research into Santa's behavior should be conducted.

Rocky Appoints Own Doctor to Council

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller's personal physician, Dr. W. Kenneth Riland of Manhattan, has been appointed to the State Public Health Council.

Rockefeller selected Riland Monday to succeed Dr. Robert E. L. Nesbitt Jr., of Syracuse, whose term had expired. Riland's term runs to Jan. 1, 1972.

The council serves as an advisory body to the state health commissioner on public health policies. Its members are paid $1,710 a year.

Including 4th JetportGroup Urges Vast Expansion of N. Y. City Air Facilities

NEW YORK (AP)—A committee of a major airlines has called for a vast expansion of New York's air facilities including prompt construction of a fourth major jetport.

The group, which only 14 months ago questioned the urgency of the need for such a facility, said Monday another airport was "essential due to unprecedented growth" of airline private and business flying.

The Metropolitan Airlines Committee, which represents nine domestic airlines, said a site for the jetport "should be agreed upon as promptly as possible and the acquisition of land and planning for the construction should be undertaken immediately thereafter."

The Port of New York Authority is scheduled to issue next week its latest report on the jetport problem to the governors of New York and New Jersey.

authority has studied some 20 sites for a fourth airport and found only one—the Great Swamp of Morris County, N.J.—that met its criteria. Acquisition of that site was blocked by local and political opposition.

The committee's program also called for adding two runways at both Kennedy and Newark airports and development of STOL (short take-off and landing) airports on unused piers and on Governors Island.

At Kennedy the group's proposal was to fill in part of Jamaica Bay to make room for the additional runways. At Newark it urged building a runway on land in the Port Elizabeth area, east of the New Jersey Turnpike, and construction of bridged taxiways over the turnpike.

The committee is composed of the chief executive officers of American, Braniff, Delta, Eastern, Mohawk, Northeast, Northwest, Trans World and United Airlines.

Fear Cessina, 4 Down in Lake

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—A single-engine plane carrying four persons reportedly crashed into Lake Erie three miles north of here late Monday night, the Coast Guard said. Three ships and helicopter are searching the area.

FAA officials in Oberlin, Ohio, and Port Erie, Pa., airport said radar contact with the plane was lost at 11:36 p.m. when it was over the lake.

An FAA spokesman in Oberlin said, "We don't know where the plane is. We lost contact."

The Cessna reportedly was carrying two couples from Erie to Cleveland but their identities were not known. No flight plan had been filed in Erie for the one hour trip.

The Coast Guard in Ashtabula said it was snowing, visibility was poor and waves were running about 1½ feet.

Trip Recognizes Achievements of Older 4-H Youth

Three Ulster County 4-H youths recently participated in the 21st annual Honor Award Trip to New York City from Dec. 13 through Dec. 16. The award trip program serves to recognize the outstanding achievements of older 4-H youths who have completed Agriculture Projects. 4-H delegates from the county were Jill Abrahamsen, New Paltz; Pratt Boice, Lake Katrine; and Bruce Brower, High Falls. They joined in with approximately 60 other 4-H youth from twenty-nine other counties throughout New York State.

Feature Career Exploration
Using the Hotel Wellington as their base the 4-H delegates visited commercial firms, many of them related to the agriculture industry. Although the award trip is in recognition of the youth, career exploration was emphasized throughout the program. The first activity for the 4-Hers was a career and opportunity banquet with guest speaker Prof. Edward A. Schano, 4-H specialist, Poultry Department, Cornell, commenting on careers in general and many different types of employment that they would see in the next few days. During the three days the 4-H Youth visited many places in interest including the Fulton Fish Market where they were guided by Thomas J. Risoli, of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, tour of the United Nations, and New York Stock Exchange. Other highlights were visits to the Statue of Liberty, Hayden Planetarium, Empire State Building, tour of NBC Studios, and a look at the liner Queen Mary. The award trip concluded Friday with a visit to the Bronx Zoo.

The program or award trip is partially sponsored by the counties but several firms support the trip by providing meals and guided tours. These agencies which help to support the program are the Sears-Roebuck Foundation; Bureau of Commercial Fisheries; Babcock Poultry Farms, Inc.; Withmore Feeds; and Marshalls Hatchery. These firms made it possible for the HAT delegates to participate and enjoy many of the different activities planned for them. Accompanying the group was Carlton M. Conklin, Ulster County 4-H Extension Agent.

Santa Gets Gate; Smelled Good, But Feet Hurt

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (AP) — Santa Claus no longer interviews youngsters at Levin's department store. He was arrested for shoplifting.

William J. Nicholson, who was under the whiskers and Santa Claus suit was charged Monday with stealing a $1.50 bottle of men's cologne and a 37-cent bottle of corn and callous remover.

The store will remain without a Santa Claus for the rest of the season, according to Stanley Levin, president.

Voorhees, Retired B&O Official, Dies

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Henry E. Voorhees, retired vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, died here Monday. He was 90.

Voorhees was born in Saratoga Springs, N.Y., and had lived in Chicago, where he was a director of the American National Bank.

He was a trustee of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Grace Ferguson Voorhees, and a son, Roland, of Darien. Funeral services will be Wednesday at St. Paul's Church, Philadelphia.

Business Mirror Reflections

New Delays Could Torpedo Rail Plan

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — There is a growing possibility that the planned merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads might collapse if further long postponements develop.

Odds in Favor
The odds still are greatly in favor of the consolidation, which has the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission, but the effective date has been delayed by court cases.

Since early 1962, the plan has managed to stay on the tracks despite more than 140 days of hearings, challenges by other railroads and opposition from the Justice Department.

Now, the chairman of the Pennsylvania and the chairman of the ICC foresee a collapse if delays continue indefinitely. Privately, some railroad people are even more pessimistic.

In ICC hearings, Chairman Stuart Saunders of the Pennsylvanian conceded that merger planning between the two lines was "de-lines, including the Norfolk & Western. The Pennsylvanian and Central say the N&W is obstructionist in delaying the Pennsylvanian merger. Saunders has even suggested that the N&W's motive is to delay additional competition from the merged line, "celebrating" because of the delays.

Approved April 27
The 19,356-mile Pennsylvania New York Central Transportation Co. was to have been a reality on Oct. 1, 1966, which in itself represented a delay from a June 1 deadline. The ICC gave its approval last April 27. On Sept. 21 a three-judge federal court delayed the plan to consider an appeal for additional hearings by several other rail lines. In the next month the same court rejected this appeal by a 2-to-1 vote.

The Supreme Court then stepped in to review the lower court ruling. A one-day hearing now is set for Jan. 9 in Washington, making a final decision unlikely until late February or early spring.

The court question now concerns a challenge by several

Basic to this fight is the fact that the N&W, itself, has an application before the ICC to merge with the Chesapeake & Ohio, a plan which Saunders has said he will oppose vigorously as "not in the public interest."

When the Pennsylvanian application was filed in 1962, nobody expected the decision to drag out five years. That it has can, in a sense, be considered a tribute to the thoroughness of the ICC and the courts.

During this time, however, important decisions reportedly have been postponed, others have been kept in month-to-month suspension, and capital spending plans have been confused by the realities of present need and the uncertain hopes of tomorrow.

"It is simply impossible to operate these properties in expense this way," Saunders said. John W. Bush, ICC chairman, said a further indefinite postponement might even destroy the merger plan.

Among the problems of further delays are these: —Plans to construct terminal and other facilities must be delayed at a great cost in efficiency.

—Morale of employees will be damaged. Advancements may have to be held up. Central freight solicitors still must compete with the Pennsylvanian for traffic.

—The financial situation of the railroads and the economic situation of country are changing.

Thruway Death

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A tractor-trailer mounted on the roof of an automobile on the State Thruway 20 miles east of Buffalo Monday night, State Police said, killing the car's driver and injuring his wife.

Robert Winkler, 69, of Philadelphia, Pa., died in the crash. His 53-year-old wife Loretta was taken to Meyer Memorial Hospital here for treatment of bruises and a possible head injury.

Troopers said the truck, which carried no cargo, and the Winkler car were coupled by the collision and that both swerved into a ditch along the Thruway's westbound lane. Winkler lived at 2821 N. Warlock St.

Missing 10 Weeks

MIAMI Fla. (AP) — A mother has begged for some word on the fate of her daughter who vanished with another girl 10 weeks ago from a skin-diving party.

Mrs. Herman Nater wrote an open letter "to the person or persons responsible" for the disappearance of her daughter, Pamela, 20, and Nancy Leichter, 21. She said there is a $2,500 reward for information that helps locate the girls, dead or alive, and $10,000 for their return alive.

Plan Interviews For Navy Typists

A civilian Navy representative will be at the Post Office in the office of Navy Recruiter Chief E. J. Silva Dec. 30 from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. for the purpose of interviewing stenographers.

The positions will be filled with the Navy Department in Washington and will pay from $3,925 to $5,331 annually with good promotional opportunities. Interested persons must be able to type a minimum of 40 words per minute and be able to take dictation at the rate of 80 words per minute.

Chief Silva will make appointments for those who wish to see the representative, Miss Inese Ozols. For those who are unable to see her in Kingston, Miss Ozols will be at the Navy Recruiting station in Newburgh from Jan. 2 to Jan. 13 conducting interviews.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

MISS FLORENCE GIPPERT, 20 Cedar Street, Saugerties, has become something of a legend in her own time among the younger employees of The Martin Cantine Company. Miss Gippert, on Dec. 14, celebrated her 51st year with the local paper coating firm. She began her employment with the company on Dec. 14, 1915 as a switchboard operator; is now payroll clerk; and has worked under five company presidents. Indeed she has never worked anywhere else in her life and holds the distinction of being the oldest employee of the firm—feats which tend to awe her colleagues. (Freeman photo by Wagenföhr)

Club Outfitted 8 Needy Girls

Girls Community Club of Saugerties held its Christmas Party this month at the Flamingo Restaurant.

The club's Christmas party is the long awaited conclusion and highlight of its sponsored Vanilla Campaign, carried on through the co-operation of Ben Sanford, Dawn Products, Saugerties. With the proceeds received through the generosity of local residents supporting the Vanilla Campaign, the club was financially able to outfit eight needy girls from the Township of Saugerties. Each girl received a snowsuit, mittens, head band, dress, sweater, complete outfit of undergarments, pajamas, bathrobe, slippers, socks, shoes and boots. Santa made a special early trip to be on hand to present the gifts to these happy children. The eight girls also received a doll.

Elsie Thornton, president of the Girls Community Club, wishes to express the club's appreciation to all who made it financially possible for the club to give these girls a Christmas they will long remember.

Girls Community Club feels in carrying on this project each year, the meaning and significance of the holiday spirit, is fully realized.

At services last Sunday the pastor, the Rev. J. H. Rainear, received the following into the Saugerties Methodist Church. His class from preparatory membership included Debra Bordeaux, Marcia Goble, Nancy Slater, Maryann Johnson, Gary Altshier, Stephen Benham, Craig Miller, David Sawatz and George Young. Adults received on confession of faith were Mrs. Donald Martin of Mt. Marion, and John Hutton, RD 1, Box 49B. By letter of transfer were Mrs. Robert Bees, Mt. Marion, from Trinity Methodist Church, Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fleming, Congregational Church, Southport, Conn.; Mrs. Walter Gustafson from the Church of the Good Shepherd, Episcopal, Pawtucket, R. I. and Walter Gustafson from Bethany Lutheran Church, Cranston, R. I. Following the service a coffee hour was held in the chapel sponsored by the Commission on Membership and Evangelism to welcome the new members, and to greet college students and servicemen home on vacation and furlough.

DAR Undertakes Holiday Projects

Saugerties Chapter National Society Daughters of the American Revolution held its December meeting at the home of Mrs. Daniel Lamoree, Vice-regent, Mrs. John Lowther presided in the absence of Regent Mrs. Carol Nieffer.

Americanism chairman, Mrs. Lewis Gaylord read the article "Desegregated History." It was also reported that Mrs. Chester Clunt, Mrs. John Lowther and Mrs. William Young attended the Naturalization Court Dec. 2 with Mrs. Lewis Gaylord.

Saugerties Chapter will decorate a vacant store window in the old Paramount building for the Christmas holidays, Mrs. Nieffer and Mrs. Young are in charge of this project.

In the spirit of Christmas it was reported that a box of clothing, beads, etc. has been sent to the Allegheny-Seneca Indian Reservation. It was also reported that a box of gifts was sent to the Chapter's adopted student at Tammassee School, William Stanley. Other gifts were also sent to the other students.

The announced guests for the December meeting, Miss Amy Walker, New York State Chairman, American History Award and National Vice-chairman of Credentials, and Mrs. Max J. Schnurr, New York State Room, Ten Broeck House Committee telephoned saying because of the intense fog they would be unable to make the meeting. Those two interesting guests will attend a future DAR meeting in 1967.

The January meeting will be held in the Community Room of the Saugerties Savings Bank, Jan. 4. Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Lewis Gaylord, Mrs. George Darrow, Mrs. Herriek, Mrs. James Slater and Miss June Overbagh.

Community Club Has Yule Party

Members of the Community Club of the West Saugerties area enjoyed a roast ham dinner with all the trimmings as part of their Christmas party, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yakin last weekend. The host and hostess prepared and served the dinner.

Mrs. Peter Richard, president, made several presentations and gifts were exchanged. Entertainment and games followed the meal.

At the regular December meeting of the club, held earlier, many awards were presented and members enjoyed slides, presented by Mr. Roy of the New York Telephone Company.

The next meeting of the club is planned for Jan. 16.

Brownie Troop Adopts a Family

Brownie Troop 154, under the leadership of Mrs. H. Tong and Mrs. R. Brayley, have been living up to their Brownie promise "to help other people every day."

They have adopted a needy, fatherless family and at Thanksgiving supplied them with a turkey and all the trimmings.

Since Thanksgiving they have been busy collecting good useable clothing and toys for each member of the family. As Christmas approaches they are busy preparing these gifts and wrapping them individually. Each Brownie has been enthusiastically doing her part in this worthwhile project. They have every intention of remembering these people all year and not just at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

This particular Brownie Troop has always had an especially energetic group of girls. Much credit is given to the others who have supported these youngsters in their endeavors.

Recently, at their investiture, which was held at the Saugerties Methodist Church, the girls gave a puppet show based on the Brownie story. Mrs. J. Smith, one of the committee mothers, spent a great deal of time helping the girls prepare this show.

Refreshments were served after the following new girls were invested: Connie Brayley, Barbara Bjornseth, Jocelyn Clawson, Elaine Coghlan, Leah Knorr, Susan Marro, Susan Tompkins, Beverly Tong, Janice Veltrie, Debbie Ward, Donna Ward and

Ulster Farm Bureau Meet at Gaffney Home

Reports by President Jack Gaffney and Franklin Kelder on conventions they attended highlighted a meeting of the Ulster County Farm Bureau at the Gaffney home, 35 Wilson Avenue, Highland, recently.

Gaffney, accompanied by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Gill, were on hand for the State Farm Bureau meeting in Syracuse.

Michele Wright. Given their one year Brownie stars were: Kathleen Bannen, Anita Millen, Kathleen Morgan, Paula Poleschner, Susan Shier, Linda Smith, Suzanne Sutkus, Virginia Trumpore, Debbie VanDerBeek and Dale Walfield.

Kelder and his wife attended the American Farm Bureau Federation meeting in Las Vegas.

In other business the bureau announced the Woman's Committee headed by Mrs. Jack Schoonmaker, Accord, and Mrs. Robert Kelder Jr., Stone Ridge, will staff the booth at the Kingston Horticulture Show next month. It was also noted the Tire Program, initiated by the state bureau, will be promoted in this county by Robert Davenport at his High Falls implement firm. Identification cards will be issued paid-up members for use purchasing tires.

Members also renamed Jack Schoonmaker, Accord, to head the Scholarship Committee.

Dear Abby . . .

Dad May Lose Out in the End

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine has a 10-year-old son I'll call "Randy." Randy stole a $55 radio from an appliance store last summer. When his father discovered it, he made the boy take the radio back to the store and confess his guilt. Randy was then told that if he wanted the radio he could save his allowance until he had enough money to buy it.

Randy has been saving for nearly seven months, and by Christmas the radio will be his. The father plans to do the following: On Christmas morning he will take a hammer and smash the radio to pieces right before Randy's eyes. He says this will teach the boy never to steal again. I would appreciate your opinion of this plan.

DEAR FRIEND: To deliberately trick the boy into saving for the radio only to destroy it is both cruel and dishonest. This may teach Randy never to steal again, but it will also teach him that his father's word isn't worth anything.

DEAR ABBY: I am about 60 years old. A lady friend with whom I no longer speak, due to a falling out, has in the past treated me to several evenings of entertainment and expensive dinners. We were both in the company of her gentleman friend who paid for all.

I thanked him (and her) at the end of each evening, of course, but that was all I did to reciprocate. Would it be proper for me to send this man a few bottles of fine wine or some other gift in belated appreciation for his kindness? I feel I should.

NEW YORKER
DEAR NEW YORKER: Under the strained circumstances I would advise against it. His lady friend would almost certainly construe the gracious gesture as a subtle device to call her gentleman friend's attention to yourself.

DEAR ABBY: My father-in-law has stomach trouble, and is a very finicky eater which is why I seldom have them over for dinner. Last week I had a family get-together and therefore invited my in-laws. I assured my mother-in-law that I would have only the things I knew "Papa" could eat. I went to a lot of trouble and expense to make everyone happy.

Well, my mother-in-law shows up with a roaster and two kettles. She had prepared Papa's dinner and was bringing it to MY house. I was completely crushed to think that after being in the family for 10 years and knowing what Papa could and could not eat, she doubted that I had sense enough to feed him. What do you think.

HURT
DEAR HURT: If your meal had disagreed with "Papa," even tho it had been perfectly prepared, you'd have never heard the end of it. I think you were lucky.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BILL JOHNSON IN IOWA CITY: You're half right. I am indeed from Sioux City, Iowa. But I did not attend the University of Iowa. My alma mater is Morning-side College.

How has the world treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069.

For a personal, unpublished reply, inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Claims Present Is Right Time To Buy Home

Little likelihood of any reversal in the continuing climb of construction and land prices indicates that now is the time for families needing homes to purchase, Mrs. Adele Royael, president of the Ulster County Board of Realtors, declared today.

"Contrary to the often exaggerated reports of tight money, home mortgage credit is available for qualified buyers in most areas from a variety of sources," she added. "Realtors, members of the local board of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, can be particularly valuable in aiding home seekers obtain funds, perhaps from sources not normally considered," she explained.

with the passing months there may be fewer homes available, and prices may be higher. Vacancy rates are declining, and housing starts are at their lowest level in 20 years.

"During the past year, construction costs of residential properties have increased 4 percent, and there is little prospect that this upward trend will be reversed next year, or, for that matter, at any time in the future."

New England Tourist

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — The six New England states are planning a joint tourist promotion program that would supplement programs of the individual states.

seable future."

Citing another important reason that this is the time to invest in property, she said that "land prices have continued to rise, and they can be expected to continue their upward spiral."

"In the coming months, therefore, persons interested in making a home purchase should put aside all hesitancy and arrange to visit properties currently being offered for sale," she continued. "A home purchased today generally can be expected to increase about 5 percent in value in most areas over the next year," she added. "Real estate has been and can be expected to continue to be one of the safest investments and best hedges against inflation."

'Horse Latitudes'

One theory of how the "horse latitudes," a region noted for its calms, got that name is that sailing vessels carrying horses to the New World would, when becalmed, be forced to cast some of the horses overboard to lighten the vessel and take advantage of whatever breeze might be stirring.

CBS to Televis Methodist Church Christmas Service

The New York Area of The Methodist Church, which comprises Vermont, parts of New York and Connecticut, will produce the Columbia Broadcasting System's annual Christmas Eve television worship service originating in the Washington Square Methodist Church in New York City, 12 o'clock midnight, Dec. 24.

The minister, the Rev. A. Finley Schaeff, has announced that the service will feature talent from the Greenwich Village community and that program will reflect Protestantism's appreciation and utilization of the best in present day performing arts.

According to the executive director, Miss Pamela Hott, director of religious Broadcasts, the program will be 'fed' live to some 210 CBS affiliated television stations from coast to coast and produced with the cooperation of (TRAFICO) Television, Radio and Film Commission of The Methodist Church. The producer will be Ted Holmes and the director Portman Paget.

From its source in Burgundy, the Seine River meanders 480 miles in a northwesterly direction before reaching its estuary on the English Channel.

The Right Thing To Do

By Elizabeth L. Post

HOW OPEN IS "OPEN HOUSE?"

Dear Mrs. Post: When an announcement of an anniversary Open House celebration appears in the papers, stating that "all friends are welcome," what does it mean? How close a friend must one be? I have met the couple five or six times and would like to congratulate them but I do not wish to impose. Please advise me. Sheila M. Dear Sheila: It is hard to say—it really depends on whether you think they would be pleased that you had come. If your meetings have led to a pleasant, though not intimate, relationship, they would be delighted to have you come to offer congratulations on their anniversary.

Widowed Grandmother Wants To Attend Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband died this fall and now my granddaughter has set her wedding date for early January. She and her mother are urging me to attend the wedding and reception, and I would like to very much, but I do not wish to show any disrespect for my husband, or to bring criticism on the family. We have agreed that your opinion will guide my decision.

Mrs. Martin Dear Mrs. Martin: Of course, you may go. You would not go to the reception at a friend's wedding, but you should certainly be at both church and reception when your granddaughter marries.

Time Out For A Smoke

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm a teenager and wish someone would give me a direct answer to two questions. (1) Is it all right to step out of church during a service just long enough to smoke a cigarette? (2) Is it all right to smoke in a cemetery?

Ellen Leary

Dear Ellen: I'll be delighted to give you direct answers. (1) No. (2) If just walking through, yes. If attending a funeral or visiting a grave, NO.

Scrooge to Visit Clinton Avenue for Production Friday

Members of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church School are putting the finishing touches on their production of A Christmas Carol to be presented on Friday, Dec. 23 at 7:30 p. m. in the church sanctuary.

Scrooge, portrayed by John Osborne, will again be won over to the true spirit of Christmas by the heartwarming Cratchit family portrayed by Mark Ohlson, Pat Franz, Kathy Studwell, Colleen MacDonald, Nancy MacDonald, Debbie Snyder, Billy MacDonald and Bobby MacDonald as Tiny Tim. Mike Bushnell and Marilyn Becker will be Scrooge's nephew and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Fezziwig will be Tom Pape and Barbara Gile.

Other members of the cast will be Victor Osborne, solicitor; Tom Studwell, Marley's Ghost; Ricky Crist and Barry Berthoff, young Scrooge; Ruth Bruno, Scrooge's sister; Danny Williams, Ed Pine, Phil Studwell and Mary Kelly. Marionettes depicting the visits of the Ghosts of Christmas Past, Present and Future to Scrooge will be manipulated by Mrs. Oscar Newkirk and Brian Edwards. Other members of the church school will be participating as carolers and stage hands while several adults have joined together to design and build the sets, provide lighting, costumes and scenery for the marionette stage.

Mrs. Earl Wright is in charge of the costumes. The production is directed by Mrs. William Studwell.

Mrs. Beatrice Edwards, chairman of the church commission

REHEARSE DICKENS CAROL—Mrs. Oscar V. Newkirk and Brian Edwards manipulate puppets as Tom Studwell, a member of the cast looks on in preparation for the performance of A Christmas Carol 7:30 p. m. Friday at Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. ACS to Conduct Education Confab

A conference on Professional Education programs of the American Cancer Society will be conducted by the Society's New York State Division on Wednesday, Jan. 11, at the Country House, Syracuse.

Included in discussions will be the Society's programs on Colon and Rectal Cancer, Oral Cancer, and Cancer Nursing.

Among those who will be attending from the Ulster County Unit, American Cancer Society, are: Dr. Frederick Elias, Co-ordinator for Colon and Rectal Program in Ulster County, and Mrs. Paul Wendrow, executive director of the local unit.

Dr. Paul S. Ingrassia, Nanuet, chairman of the Professional Education Committee of the New York State Division, will preside at the Conference. Dr. Samuel Sanes, Buffalo, president of the Division, will speak at a luncheon.

Grange Has Yule Show

Debbie Twining was narrator at Plattekill Grange presented their annual Christmas program for members and their families recently under the theme "Christmas in Other Lands." Featured were pictures, native songs and costumes.

Those taking part included John Kopaski, navigator; John Orlovski, pianist; and Mr. and Mrs. James Horton and Mr. and Mrs. Nestora Rodriguez, in charge of refreshments.

In other Grange business, the Community Service Committee, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davies will meet Wednesday to pack Christmas baskets for the Benton Home for the Aged, Modena, and for needy families in the area.

MR. AND MRS. NICHOLAS BROWN of Atwood Road, Stone Ridge, celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary recently. Their children honored them with a reception and the couple received gifts and congratulatory messages from their many relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were married on November 27, 1921 in the Church of the Assumption, Mechanicsville, N. Y., and have been residents of Atwood for the past 45 years. Mr. Brown is a retired employee of the New York State Department of Highways. With his wife, he operates the Hilltop Tavern in Atwood.

Christmas Meeting Held by Sorosis; Member Welcomed

Sorosis held its Christmas meeting recently in the home of Mrs. William Rylance, Kingston. For devotions, Mrs. Walter Danford read Eugene Field's "The First Christmas Tree."

Mrs. Thomas Reynolds Sr., president, welcomed Mrs. Harold Schadevald as a new member. A letter of thanks was read from CARE. The donation from the benefit Thanksgiving tea paid for 25 CARE packages sent to India and 25 for Chile.

Mrs. William Rylance, program chairman, presented the Christmas program with Mrs. William Ochs giving two readings: "How the Great Guest Came" by Edwin Markham, and "I'm a Fool" by Sherwood Anderson. Mrs. William Roosa sang two songs by Brahms, "Longing at Rest" and "Song of Mary." She was accompanied by Mrs. William Rylance at the piano and Mark Baczynsky on viola.

A Christmas tea and social hour were enjoyed.

Somebody's Grandma On Cycle Makes Scene

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If 63-year-old Susan Chinnis ever had a grandmotherly image, she wiped it out with that motorcycle.

Mrs. Chinnis, clad in slacks, boots and bright blue crash helmet, rips around town on a motorcycle and explains: "When you get older, you need something to make you move."

Move she does, and with a flair.

Her reason: "I wanted cheap transportation, but public transportation here is so terrible I had to do something. So I bought a motorcycle."

"Sure I fell off, and I had the bruises to prove it. But it was my own fault. Everybody falls off when they're learning," she recalls.

Mrs. Chinnis, a nurse, is a widow who lost her only son in the Korean War. She said she bought the motorcycle to economize in living on retirement income.

Salvation Army Plans Holiday Distribution

Salvation Army Christmas Cheer distribution of food certificates and toys for the holiday will take place Wednesday, Dec. 21 at 7:30 p. m. at 94 North Front Street.

All recipients have been notified by mail. Each application is cleared with other agencies in order to avoid duplication.

A short hymn-singing and remarks by Brigadier Jacob Hohn, commanding officer and Thomas Reynolds, chairman of the local advisory board, will make up a brief program for tomorrow night.

Annual W. Hurley Christmas Program To Be Held Tonight

Larry Lowder, vocal music director at West Hurley Elementary School is director of the annual Christmas music program sponsored by the school's P-TA. The program will be held at 7:30 p. m. tonight, in the school's cafeteria.

Four student directors assisting Lowder are Lisa Schroeder, Holly Glass, Elaine Knickmeyer and Tracey Brooks. Singing will be by the Boy's Chorus, the Girl's Chorus and the Combined Chorus, numbering nearly 100 voices. Violin selections will also be offered by students of Miss Winifred Bateman.

The program will include traditional Christmas songs along with English carols and "Skaters Waltz," performed by the fifth and sixth grade string ensemble. They will be joined by the fourth grade string ensemble in offering "The First Noel."

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH DIBELLA of 345 South Wall Street, this city, were guests of honor at a surprise party Monday, Dec. 19. The occasion marked their 47th wedding anniversary. Born in Italy, Mr. and Mrs. DiBella immigrated to the United States on August 23, 1952 and became American citizens on December 4, 1964. They were married in St. Mary's Church in the Town of Castiglione, Italy by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Concetto Fiamingo on December 19, 1919. Mr. DiBella is a retired mason contractor having practiced his profession for more than 45 years in Italy, Argentina and the United States. The DiBellas have four children and 10 grandchildren. Their children are Fred DiBella of Florida; Mrs. Tina Bertone, Alfred DiBella, Mrs. Amalia Tornatore, all of Kingston. The couple received many congratulatory gifts and messages from their relatives and friends. (Freeman photo by Wagenfohr)

Dutchess Students Add Cheer To Children's Home, Pough.

The holiday season will be made brighter today for some 60 youngsters from the Children's Home of Poughkeepsie, thanks to a group of students at Dutchess Community College.

Catherine Shufelt, Millerton, and Ronald Damanda, Wappingers Falls, have headed a committee to arrange a Christmas party at the college this evening. The youngsters will be treated to a buffet supper and caroling. Santa Claus will distribute presents donated by about 25 local merchants.

The college's Student Senate and Board of Managers are sponsoring the get-together under the supervision of Mrs. Marion Russell, cultural adviser, and Anthony Adamo, director of student affairs.

Western Champs Place Seven Men On Mythical "11"

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — The Kansas City Chiefs, who won the West, also won seven places on the All-American Football League team released today by Newspaper Enterprise Association.

Their prowess also reflected in the best record in the AFL, the Chiefs landed four offensive stars and three defensive players on the two platoons picked for NEA, traditionally, by the nine head coaches of the league.

Quarterback Lenny Dawson, the guiding hand of the Kansas City attack, was a unanimous choice. This represents something of a comeback for the veteran quarterback, who last led his team to a championship in 1962. At 31 he is the oldest of the all-league selections.

Three Others Unanimous

The other unanimous choices were offensive guard Billy Shaw of Buffalo, middle linebacker Nick Buoniconti of Boston and fullback Jim Nance, also of Boston, who broke the league rushing record this season. Shaw and Buoniconti have won places on every All-AFL team chosen by the coaches since 1963. So has flanker Lance Alworth of San Diego, who missed unanimous selection by one vote.

Besides Dawson, Kansas City placed tight end Fred Arbanas, split end Otis Taylor, a sophomore sensation; tackle Jim Tyrer, defensive end Jerry Mays, linebacker Bobby Bell and safety Johnny Robinson.

The young Oakland Raiders, who finished second to the Chiefs in the Western Division, showed they're a definite threat in the future by trailing the Chiefs in all-league selections with five. The surprise in their contingent was defensive tackle Tom Keating, playing his first year with the Raiders, after being traded by the Buffalo Bills. Keating received more votes than any man in his position.

Tough Defense Picks

Tom Sestak of the Bills, a perennial at defensive tackle, barely clung to all-league esteem. He was tied in the balloting by Houston Antwine, the fireplug pass rusher of the Boston Patriots.

There was intense competition all along the defensive line, in fact, except at one end where Mays of the Chiefs received the votes of eight of the nine coaches in the AFL. Verlon Biggs, the lone New York representative on the squad, was Mays' mate on the flanks.

The defensive secondary also featured close races. Butch Byrd of Buffalo nosed out Kent McLoughan of Oakland for a corner job. Both safeties—Robinson of Kansas City and hard hitting Kenny Graham of San Diego—were pushed by George Salmes of Buffalo (a 1965 choice) and Bobby Hunt of Kansas City.

Three Teams Blanked

Denver, Houston and Miami failed to achieve representation on the all-league team. Denver, however, had two men on the second team—linebacker John Bramlett and corner back Willie Brown.

The continuing maturity of the AFL was evidenced by the presence of only one rookie, halfback Bobby Burnett of the Bills, on either the first or second teams. And Burnett rated his second team post by being among the league's top rushers all year, also pacing the defending champions. The average experience for the all-league team is 5.1 years. Such men as tackle Ron Mix of San Diego, Robinson, guard Wayne Hawkins and center Jim Otto are AFL originals, dating back to the start of the league in 1960.

They're all in the 27-28 age range, when a pro is supposed to achieve his physical peak. Like the Chiefs, who are virtually AFL-bred, they're also a tribute to the growth and strength of the young pro league.

Don Meredith In Hospital

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas Cowboys quarterback Don Meredith, sparkplug of the club's rise to the Eastern Division championship in the National Football League this year, was taken to a hospital early today with stomach cramps.

A spokesman said sometime later that examination by the team physician showed no connection between the ailment and headaches which had troubled Meredith recently.

The team physician, Dr. Ronald F. Garvey, nevertheless ordered Meredith kept at St. Paul Hospital overnight for observation.

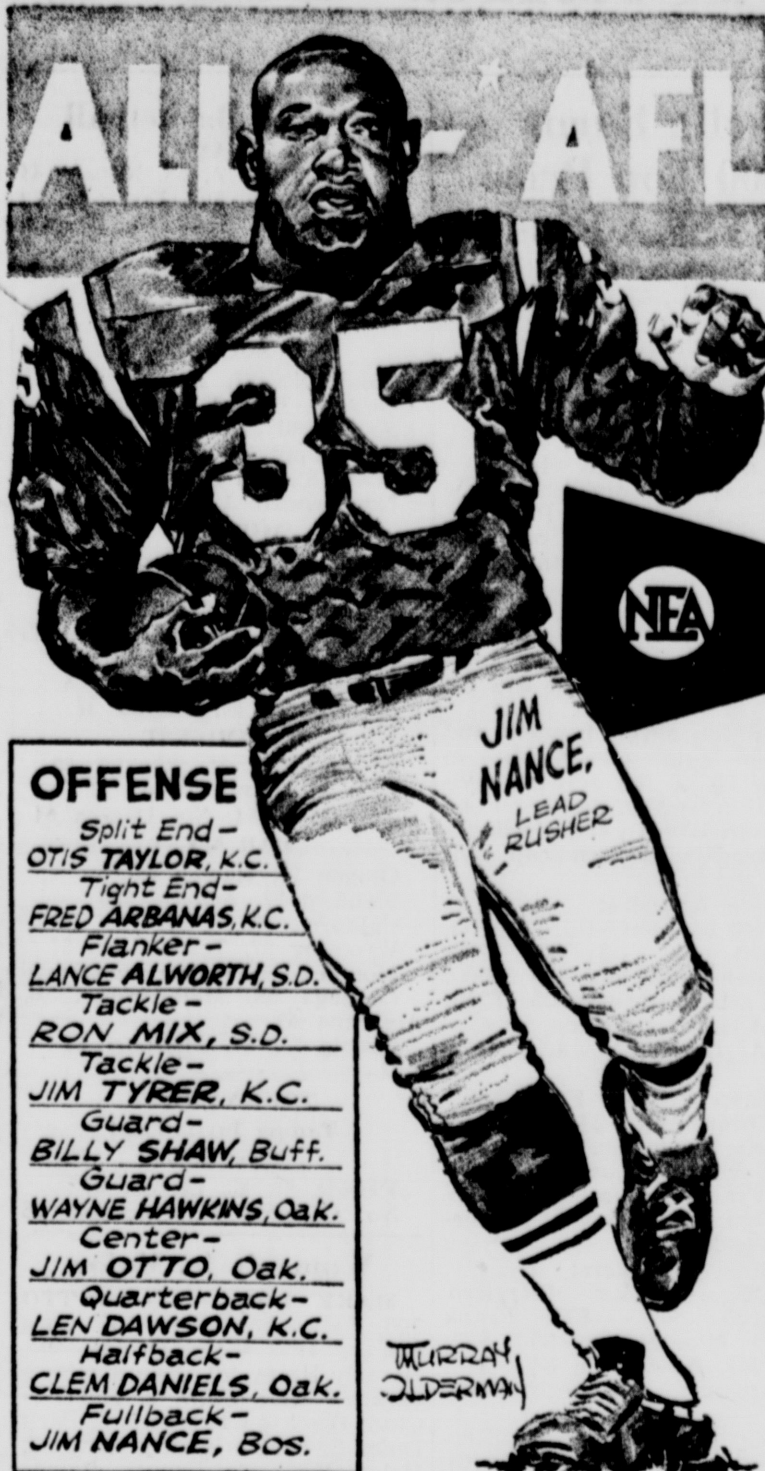

The Cowboys' ace passer and signal caller was forced to leave the field after a jarring tackle by Sam Huff of the Washington Redskins in a game here Dec. 11. He had suffered from headaches since.

At Auditorium UCCC Opposes Rockland Team

Ulster County Community College's Basketball team will be seeking to extend its 5-1 record tonight, when it opposes Rockland Community College, which has a 2-4 record.

The game, to start at 8 o'clock, will be played at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium.

Coach Mike Perry said he was highly impressed by his team's 97-92 victory Saturday night over Kingsborough Community College. He said Bill Zilliox, who netted 27 points, showed good scoring ability and also was impressed by the play of Ron Lindsay, Rod Chando and Stan Henderson.

Rockland will have two players with good height in the starting five. They are Clayton Kile, 6-5, and Jim Mangam, 6-4. The other expected starters are Ken Meek, 5-10, Rich Alteri, 6, and Anthony Campoli, 6. Campoli has been the team's best scorer, averaging 23 points a game.

Rockland is tied with Ulster in the Mid-Hudson Conference standing. Each team has 1-1 conference records.

Indict Driver George Sziklai For Alleged Fix at Mighty M

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn grand jury Monday indicted harness racing driver George Sziklai on charges involving an alleged fix on a race at the Monticello track last Aug. 19.

The indictment is the first to come out of a lengthy and continuing probe of harness racing. Sziklai, 34, who came to this country eight years ago after driving in harness races in Hungary, is accused in five counts of bribery, perjury and conspiracy.

If convicted on all counts, he could get up to 23 years in prison.

Two horse owners, Ben Alaimo and Nicholas Seminara, were named as coconspirators in the indictment but were not indicted.

A third owner, Henry Schroeder, was mentioned in the indictment but not named as either defendant or coconspirator.

Sziklai pleaded innocent to the indictment later before Justice Miles McDonald in Brooklyn Supreme Court and bail was fixed at $5,000. No trial date was set.

The grand jury has been investigating charges of race-fixing over a three-year period at Roosevelt, Yonkers and Monticello raceways.

Today's indictment largely concerned the third race at Monticello on Aug. 19, when Sziklai is accused of accepting a bribe from Alaimo and Seminara to finish out of the money, driving a horse named Houston Hanover.

Assure Race Owners

The perjury counts involve Sziklai's denials before the grand jury last Sept. 22 that he had held telephone conversations with the three owners, assuring them that the winner of the 3rd race would be Grumble and telling them to place bets for him with their money.

Grumble, driven by William Popfinger, won the third race.

The conspiracy charge accuses Sziklai of conspiring with Alaimo and Seminara before the start of the 1966 season to furnish them names of winning horses in advance, in return for which they would place bets, with the winnings to be divided three ways at the end of the season.

Maroons in Tie For Bridge Lead

The Master Point tournament of the Glenrieve Bridge Club produced a first place tie at 56 per cent between the teams of Dorothy and Dr. Habeeb Maroon of Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Washington of Hyde Park.

Robert Shea and Bob Harper of Poughkeepsie placed third with 53 per cent. A two-way tie for fourth at 52½ per cent involved the teams of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fechliff and Joseph Mautner and Roy Wulff, both of Kingston.

A fractional point game is scheduled tonight at 7:30 at the Elks lodge in Kingston.

St. Louis Hawks Wish Washington Was There

Jim Washington sat around a year waiting to show the St. Louis Hawks what he could do. The Hawks wish he still were waiting.

St. Louis must have been impressed Monday night by the 6-foot-7 forward, but Washington now is with the Chicago Bulls and it was his performance that helped beat the Hawks 102-97 in Memphis, Tenn., in the night's only National Basketball Association game.

Washington, who averaged only 5.9 points a game his rookie season last year in St. Louis before leaving in the expansion draft, scored 11 points in the final period to nail down the Chicago victory.

Holiday Games Start Thursday

Ulster County Community College has drawn Staten Island Community for its opening round in the Holiday Basketball Tournament Thursday at the municipal auditorium.

Fulton-Montgomery CC is pitted against Trenton Junior College of New Jersey in the opener at 7:30 p. m. The Kingston-Staten Island contests starts at 9 p. m.

Winners of the first two games play for the title Friday night, with the losers vying in the consolation.

A most valuable player will be named and all-star squad of the top five players will be selected from among all those competing.

Strong Contenders
Fulton-Montgomery Raiders will be strong contenders for the title. They have posted a 6-1 record so far, defeating Monroe Community College, 71-65; Cobleskill, 106-82; Mohawk Valley, 105-91; Morrisville Agricultural and Tech, 113-93; Adirondack Community, 103-71; and Albany State Frosh, 99-78. Their only loss was to Auburn Community College, 103-98.

The team's leading scorer is Franklin Starks, who came from Trott High School in Niagara Falls, and has been averaging 23 points a game.

Another top scorer is Bob Marotta, the team's leading scorer last year, who is now averaging 18 a game. Third highest scorer is Phil Schuyler, second year player, with a 17.1 average.

Tall Trenton Team
The Raiders are coached by Dr. Jerry Fabiano and last year posted an 11-7 record.

Trenton Junior College, coached by Howie Landa, is a strong basketball power from New Jersey which has lots of height. It has Wayne Sokolowski, 6-7; Tom Pogranicy, 6-6; Jim Naples, 6-6; Louis Merlano, 6-5; Robert Teti, 6-4; Tom Krenchicki, 6-3; and Wayne Morris, 6-3.

The Staten Island squad, coached by Ira Sweet, is one of the strongest two-year college teams in Metropolitan New York. The Dolphins have two players standing 6-3 — Doug Snyder, a second year center, and Steve Lin, a second year forward.

The U.C.C.C. Senators, coached by Mike Perry, have well-rounded scoring depth and lots of speed. The team captain is Brad Meyer, the only returning letterman from last year's squad which posted a 13-8 record.

Postpone Biddy
Because of conflict with the Ulster Community basketball game, tryouts for the Biddy League have been postponed to Thursday morning at 10 a. m.

Nip Colorado, 66-64 Cincinnati Thriller

His Cincinnati teammates call Ken Calloway Cab... for obvious reasons.

Opposing coaches call third-ranked North Carolina terrific, and the reasons are just as obvious.

Calloway was the hero Monday night as the seventh-ranked Bearcats squeezed past Colorado 66-64 at Cincinnati. Meanwhile, North Carolina continued to punish visitors from the North, wallowing Columbia 98-66 in the opening round of the Tampa Invitational Basketball Tournament at Tampa, Fla.

It was Cincinnati's sixth straight victory and the fourth the Bearcats have won by two points or less. Calloway grabbed a rebound with two seconds left and sank the winning basket. It came after John Howard, who led the winners with 24 points, missed a free throw.

Florida State Next
Florida State is North Carolina's next test in the Tampa Tourney finals. The Seminoles gained the championship round with an 83-67 triumph over the Citadel. Jeff Hogan led FSU with 25 points.

Fourth-ranked Texas Western used a big rebound advantage to ease past Wichita 77-60 at El Paso. David Lattin's 18 points led the defending NCAA champion Miners, who pulled down 50 rebounds to only 30 for the Shockers.

New Mexico, rated No. 6, got 26 points from Mel Daniels and 16 from Ben Monroe, who hit on eight of nine from the field, in an 84-64 victory over visiting North Dakota.

Dove Scores 27
St. John's walloped ninth-ranked Kansas 68-44 with Sonny Dove pouring in 27 points and grabbing 16 rebounds in a virtual one-man show for the unbeaten Redmen.

Vanderbilt, No. 10, ruined Florida's unbeaten record, whipping the Gators, 77-69 at Nashville, Tenn. Tom Hagan scored 20 points and Bob Warren 18 for the Commodores, now 7-1. Florida is 4-1.

All 10 starters reached double figures as Northwestern outlasted Tulane 121-116 in a wild one at New Orleans.

Ron Guziak scored 22 points, leading Duquesne to a 79-72 victory over San Francisco State. Georgia Tech got 23 points from Pres Judy and downed Brown 93-75.

Lightweights Set NHL Scoring Pace

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Mikita and Ken Wharram, Chicago's lightweight scorers, and Roger Crozier, Detroit's bantam goaltender, are cutting their National Hockey League foes down to size.

Mikita and Wharram, the center and right wing, respectively, on the Black Hawks' Scooter Line, are running 1-2 in the individual scoring race while Crozier, 5-8, 150-pound goalie, is the shutout leader with four, according to latest NHL figures.

Mikita, 5-foot-9 and 165 pounds, scored one goal and set up three others last week, boosting his league-leading point total to 42. Wharram, 5-9 and 168 pounds, shot into second place with 28 points after registering three goals and three assists during the week.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS

The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept help wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act if they offer less than legal minimum wages or pay wage differentials based on sex. Most employees engaged in the production of goods for commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and time and one-half for hours worked over 40 in a week. Beginning September 3, 1964, most employees in certain large retail service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and time and one-half for hours worked over 42 in a week. The Act also requires equal pay for equal work for men and women. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act, call or write the U. S. Labor Department's local office at 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. 10462. LEGAL NOTICE

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that the City Planning Board of the City of Kingston, New York, will hold a public hearing on the amended Uptown Urban Renewal Project N. Y. R-121 at 7:30 P. M., in the Common Council Chambers, City Hall, 408 Broadway, Kingston, New York, on the 22nd day of December, 1966.

The Kingston Urban Renewal Agency will be responsible for undertaking the amended project. The amended project area consists of all that land within the attached map. The purpose of the hearing is to consider a proposal for undertaking of an amended project to change the project boundary and the permitted uses in the land use plan and controls and to determine whether such amended proposal conforms to the comprehensive community plan for the development of the City as a whole and whether such proposal is consistent with local objectives and appropriate for urban renewal. The amended project will be carried out under State and Local Law with Federal financial assistance under Title I of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended.

The proposed changes are available for examination at the office of the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, 436 Broadway, Kingston, New York.

Any person or organization desiring to be heard will be afforded an opportunity to be heard at the meeting.

Ruby Is Troubled By Upset Stomach

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby was troubled by a sick stomach as he took more drugs in a fight against cancer.

Ruby, 35, killed Lee Harvey Oswald two days after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated Nov. 22, 1963.

The Warren Commission named Oswald as the assassin.

The former night club operator is being treated in Parkland Hospital, where Kennedy and Oswald died.

He was "troubled with vomiting," hospital spokesmen said Monday. They said he remained in serious condition.

Ruby was admitted to the hospital Dec. 9. He faces a new trial for slaying Oswald if he recovers.

Accused Slayer of Nurses

Peoria Will Be Site Of Trial for Speck

CHICAGO (AP) — The trial of Richard F. Speck, 25, on charges of murdering eight student nurses in Chicago, was transferred Monday to Peoria, in north-central Illinois.

Judge Herbert C. Paschen of Circuit Court moved the proceeding out of Chicago at the request of the defense. Speck's lawyer, public defender Gerald Getty, contended an impartial trial could not be held in the city where the crime took place July 14.

Speck Too Much Feeling Judge Paschen, who has had jurisdiction since the indictment of Speck, said the decision to shift the trial was reached after consultation with the Administrative Office of Illinois Courts, and the respective chief justices of Illinois court districts.

Getty contended that wide publicity in Chicago about the slayings stirred up too much feeling to permit a fair trial in Cook County — Chicago.

Judge Paschen also said that surveys of the effect of Chicago radio, television and newspaper coverage of the nurses' slayings were studied to determine how widespread their Downstate effect was.

The judge said that the survey indicated there had been a minimum circulation of Chicago news media in Peoria County.

But Getty, quickly raised the possibility that the trial may not be held in Peoria's new courthouse.

Will Make Survey "I intend to send a lawyer and an investigator to Peoria to attempt to make a survey," he said.

The objective, he added, would be to ascertain if a fair trial can be held there. Neither state nor defense had suggested any location for the trial after the judge had agreed to send it out of Cook County.

They will look into files of Peoria newspapers for the July 14-Aug. 1 period. The student nurses were slain on July 17.

If Peoria newspapers printed the same things, "I'd have to present the same motions for change of venue," Getty told newsmen.

Getty reiterated that statements made by police officials, including Police Supt. O. W. Wilson, regarding Speck, were of a nature that would prevent a fair trial for his client in Cook County. He indicated he wants to find out if the same statements were published in Peoria County.

Up to Judges Judge Paschen said arrangements for all subsequent proceedings will be up to the judges of the 10th District in Peoria County.

Getty raised the question of a trial date.

"It's up to you gentlemen to get into touch with officials in Peoria County," the judge said.

There was no indication as to when Speck will be taken to Peoria County, about 150 miles from Chicago. In the meantime, Speck will remain in the Cook County Jail. He was brought from his cell to the courtroom today through an underground connecting passage.

Speck looked more spruce than he has thus far. He wore a dark suit, a dark tie, a white shirt and a handkerchief in his breast pocket.

Limit Flight BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German Defense Ministry today ordered limited resumption of flights by its controversial F104G Starfighters, the American-designed plane grounded since Dec. 6.

West German fliers have had a long series of fatal accidents with Starfighters and have had trouble with the ejection seat that enables them to make emergency escapes.

The Defense Ministry said it would take until Jan. 3 for necessary changes to be made in the ejection seats of all the planes. The air force has about 700 Starfighters, the navy about 85.

New Cancer Film Available Locally

"Investment in Life," a new motion picture expected to alert the public to the climate of hope which now exists in cancer research, has been produced and made available by the American Cancer Society, it was announced by George Svirsky, president of the Society's County Unit.

Gregory Peck, National Cancer Crusade chairman last year, and noted motion picture actor, stars in the film. His co-stars include some of the country's leading researchers who were filmed in their own laboratories as they showed and explained their work.

Produced for the Society by Irving Gitlin, television producer of documentaries, the 16mm color-sound film runs nearly 30 minutes.

It is available for free showing to audiences of all age groups.

Among the top cancer researchers who appear in the film is Dr. James T. Grace Jr., of Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, and immediate past President of the Society's Erie County Unit, who investigates viruses and their possible connection to leukemia or cancer of the blood.

Controlled laboratory experiments show that leukemic mice injected with a vaccine prepared against the mouse leukemic cells showed immunity, whereas mice which had not been injected were sick and died," Dr. Grace explains in the film. "If we can get this virus out of the cells then almost certainly we will have gotten a substantial tool for the control of leukemia."

DPW Employee Escapes Serious Injury in Fall

A 37-year-old State Department of Public Works employee escaped with slight injury Monday when a large limb fell from a tree he was cutting down at Rifton, and hit his head, but the impact knocked the man down an embankment and he suffered a broken right ankle and bruises.

William Woodin of Winnikee Avenue, Poughkeepsie, was taken to St. Francis' Hospital in that city by Doctors Ambulance.

An ambulance attendant said Woodin, who works out of the State Department of Public Works headquarters, Poughkeepsie, was wearing a protective helmet when a large limb dropped and hit him. He received a slight laceration of the head, and suffered the more serious injuries when he was knocked down the embankment on Route 213 at Rifton.

It was reported that the helmet worn by Woodin saved him from possible severe head injury. Woodin was working with a crew of men who were trimming or cutting down trees at the time of the mishap.

Killed on Thruway

BATAVIA, N.Y. (AP) — A Canadian died early today in St. Jerome's Hospital of injuries suffered when hit by an automobile after his truck became disabled on the Thruway with a flat tire.

State Police said Augusto Mendes, 31, of Toronto, was standing partially in the passing lane of the superhighway when the car hit him. He had posted flares, troopers said, after pulling his truck off the pavement.

The accident occurred Monday night in nearby Pembroke. Mendes lived at 65 Ulster St.

Hope Repeats '42 Tradition

TAKHLI, Thailand (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope and his troupe gave a two-hour performance today for several thousand U.S. Army and Air Force personnel at this airbase, 85 miles northwest of Bangkok.

Hope, repeating a tradition he started in 1942, came here with a troupe of 50 to entertain American troops in Thailand and Vietnam during Christmas.

Singers Vic Damone and Anita Bryant and comedienne Phyllis Diller are among those who accompanied Hope. Les Brown and his band provided the music.

"Miss World," Rieta Faria of India, is also in the group.

Hope, who arrived here Sunday and will remain in the area until Saturday, has established his headquarters in Bangkok. He is flying in and out to entertain the troops in Thailand and South Vietnam.

Monday, he was at "Dragon Mountain" near Pleiku in South Vietnam.

Hope said he also plans to spend two or three days in Saigon where "I will sleep between the mattress and the springs."

Saigon Fire Drives 100 Families in Open

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Flames raced through a block of tin shanties and cement block homes near downtown Saigon today, driving more than 100 families into the streets.

Half a dozen persons suffered burns, police said.

More than 20 pieces of fire equipment responded but the firemen were hampered because the blazing area was surrounded by buildings and firewalls and could be reached only by walkways.

Two dozen American soldiers working at a nearby supply depot organized a bucket brigade until fire department pumps arrived.

A boy who had minor face burns said the fire began when a cooking fire in one of the tin shanties exploded.

Supervisors Approve Budget

Thayer noted that other county employees were receiving only a $120 or a $240 increase. He suggested that supervisors while on committee work should be compensated for such time rather than granting across the board raise for the legislators.

Resents Reference

Supervisor James Rapp, 1st ward, remarked that much of the work of the board was done in committee and he also referred to the time which every supervisor spent in discussion of matters with constituents outside the regular meeting. Rapp said he also resented the reference which Thayer made over the air to the board members as the "fiddlers thirty-three."

Supervisors Douglas Dye (R), Town of Kingston and Thaddeus Musiakiewicz (R), Ulster, replied that the supervisors spent considerable time in meetings outside the regular monthly meetings. Musiakiewicz said he had attended 56 meetings during the year.

Others present who spoke on budget items were Joseph Reid, member of the Rosendale town board, and Edmond Frawley of Lake Katrine. Mayor Raymond W. Garrahan, Charles Raible and Dr. John Alley.

Defends Increase

Defending the increase in salary for supervisors was Supervisor Joseph Martorana (R), Plattekill, who said many devoted half of their day to supervisor matters in their towns serving constituents, the apparently large increase in salary now proposed, he said, was because the supervisor salaries had not been increased in many years. The present increase was to make up for the inequity.

One particular increase objected to was the increase in the county clerk's salary from $8,900 to $11,000, while the deputies received only $240.

Reid also expressed opposition to a $600 increase for commissioners of election.

Mayor Garrahan held that the law provided for payment of inspectors of election "as a county charge."

Object to TB Monies

Objection was also expressed over an estimated appropriation of $400,000 for the TB hospital.

Dr. Alley remarked that the cost for care of TB patients was twice the cost if the 15 patients now in the hospital were cared for in a state hospital. Raible said a charge of $266,000 for 15 patients in the local TB hospital was "ridiculous." Frawley also spoke in opposition to the item in the budget for operation of the TB hospital.

Minority Leader Roger Mabie (D), Esopus, said no matter what use the TB hospital plant was put to it would cost money, whether it be for an infirmary or a hospital for the chronic ill.

J. Reid said he had no complaint over keeping the hospital open but it should be used to full extent.

Supervisor Irving Bell (D), 6th ward, said he had a delayed communication from the State Department of Health which said the TB hospital can be used for both TB patients and chronic disease patients. He said all of the facilities should be put to use and that he would later introduce a resolution on the use of the hospital.

Points to Proposed Levy

Just prior to the adjournment of the public hearing Supervisor Raible, who cast one of the votes in opposition to the adoption of the budget, remarked that he had some time ago proposed a method of broadening the tax base and it was a matter which should be given deep study. He said he had proposed a 2 percent county sales tax, which if it had been adopted would have yielded a considerable sum toward county operation costs.

In answer to questions regarding welfare costs, Supervisor Dye said a considerable amount, in fact some $30,000 was due to the State Medicaid program which would require some 10 more employees in the department.

Lynn Evans Isaacs inquired as to the item for $1,000 for bounties and an item of $450 for a typewriter in one of the departments. She said an ordinary typewriter could be bought for a much less sum when she was advised it was an electric machine. As to the $1,000 for bounties she was advised it was for fox bounties and she inquired how the county knew how many foxes would be killed.

Frawley said there was discrimination shown in the wage increases provided for in the budget and he said the TB hospital situation should be reconsidered.

Litani Case Letters

A letter from Glenford I. Teetsell, Saugerties, was read at the board session which followed the public hearing in which he endorsed the action of Welfare Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons in the Litani adoption matter. Teetsell commended Commissioner Fitzsimmons for his excellent performance of duty.

A letter was read from a Cleveland, Ohio, man, John A. Smerillo, calling the action of Commissioner Fitzsimmons "unjust."

Returned to City

Prior to adoption of the reapportionment resolution offered by Majority Leader Peter Savago, (R), New Paltz, a caucus was held and the 13th ward of the city of Kingston, which had been placed in the original plan in the Second Legislative District along with the towns of Ulster, Kingston, Hurley and Marbletown, was removed from that district and returned to the City of Kingston Fifth Legislative District along with the 9th, 8th, 7th, 6th and 5th wards.

The Savago resolution calls for 33 county representatives to be elected from 12 Legislative Districts, the representatives to be elected for a two-year term.

Under an order of Supreme court Justice T. Paul Kane, the county must before Dec. 31, 1966, submit an effective reorganization of its own or the court would take over that duty.

Called by many as "Not perfect," the Savago plan with the court order in that the county had presented a reapportionment plan to comply with the "one man one vote" edict.

The County Legislature under the plan is to have 12 Legislative Districts as follows:

First, Town of Saugerties, four representatives.

Second, Towns of Ulster, Kingston, Hurley, Marbletown with five representatives.

Third, 11th and 12th wards of city, with two representatives.

Fourth, 1st, 2nd and 10th wards.

Fifth, 13th, 9th, 8th, 7th, 6th and 5th wards, with two representatives.

Sixth, 3rd, 4th wards of city, two representatives.

Seventh, Towns of Rosendale and Esopus, three representatives.

Eighth, Towns of New Paltz and Gardiner, two representatives.

Ninth, Towns of Shawangunk, Plattekill, Lloyd and Mariboro, five representatives.

Tenth, Town of Wawarsing, three representatives.

Eleventh, Towns of Rochester, Denning, Hardenbergh, Shandaken and Olive, two representatives.

Twelfth, Town of Woodstock, one representative.

The term of office will be two years and the County Legislators will be elected at the general election to be held next November.

Under the Savago resolution the town supervisors will continue to administer their individual townships and they may also be candidates for election to the office of County Legislator.

Adopted by 22-11

Prior to the vote Supervisor Roger Mabie offered an amendment to table the resolution. It was lost.

The Savago resolution was adopted 22 to 11. Voting in opposition were Supervisors Barthel, (D), Wawarsing; Irving Bell, (D), 6th ward; Michael Canosa, (D), Lloyd; James J. Carroll, (D), 10th ward; John J. Lucci, (D), 5th ward; Roger Mabie, (D), Esopus; George Majestic, (D), Gardiner; Joseph B. Scully, (D), 4th ward; Thomas Shax, (D), Lloyd; A. Smith, (D), 8th ward; D. Smith, (D), 7th ward.

Tabling Move Loses

Minority Leader Mabie on his motion to table said the Democratic members had a plan similar to one proposed by Justice of the Peace Robert Stedje of the town of Ulster but time would be required to bring in the plan. He asked for a 10-day postponement in order that the minority party plan might be presented. He therefore asked the Savago resolution be tabled. His amendment was lost.

Several other routine matters were transacted prior to adjournment at 12:30 a. m.

The next meeting will be December 31, at 3 p. m. when the tax rolls will be ready for approval and the final business of the 1966 session will be concluded.

war and intense activity on the diplomatic front.

The truces so far agreed between the two sides are the Christmas halt of 48 hours next Saturday and Sunday and a New Year's pause the following weekend.

No Reply to Bid

The allies also have suggested a suspension of combat Feb. 8-12, the Vietnamese lunar New Year, but State Department officials say they have not had a reply.

In addition to the U.N. channel which has been used before, the United States also has channels through Eastern European countries and the Soviet Union and through nonaligned countries, such as Egypt and Algeria. Roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman was in Algeria recently.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market weakened early this afternoon, widening initial losses in the more active trading.

Prices were a shade higher at the opening but they soon turned mixed and then assumed a lower trend.

General Electric, which fell 3% in disappointment over an earnings forecast, dropped another 2 1/2 to 87 1/2 on an opening block of 7,600 shares, and continued to sell about a 2-point loss.

Other blue chips, which had been doing not too badly, began to lose a bit more ground.

A report that new factory orders for durable goods had fallen in November was scarcely encouraging.

Biz Three autos were up fractionally in early trading but they turned mixed in the afternoon. Chrysler said it plans to suspend assemblies for one-week periods at five of its plants.

Losses of fractions to 2 or more points outnumbered gains.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 4.90 at 794.09.

cast its shadow over the session, again became the center of attention in the session's final hours when the United States made a new overture to Thant to take a hand in getting peace negotiations going.

U.S. Ambassador Goldberg asked Thant to do whatever he deemed necessary to launch talks aimed at achieving a cease-fire in Vietnam. The approach to Thant was made five days before the start of a 48-hour Christmas truce in Vietnam.

Snag Averted

The threat of an 11th-hour snag on peacekeeping procedures was averted when the General Assembly voted to shelve the controversial question until its special session set for April to consider the situation in South-West Africa.

Canada had submitted a resolution asking U.N. members to state what forces they could contribute if requested to join a U.N. peacekeeping operation.

Series of Events Results in Death Of Bank Robbers

MONTREAL (AP)—A series of events that started when a bank robber slipped on a broken piece of glass resulted Monday in the death of the robber and his accomplice and the recovery of more than $10,000 they had stolen. In the aftermath, a constable shot himself in the leg.

When police arrived at the scene, Yvon Dubreuil, 23, and Richard Lortie, 24, lay dead in their getaway car.

The weird sequence of events at the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce branch in the Place Versailles shopping center was reconstructed like this:

The two men smashed their way into the bank with a crowbar and scooped up the money, estimated by bank manager Jean-Louis Grimaud at between $10,000 and $12,000.

One of them, carrying a sawed-off shotgun, slipped on a piece of glass as the two fled. The first robber reached the getaway car and it leaped forward. The second man fell again and slipped beneath the vehicle.

The driver jumped out and pulled his injured companion into the car. The car moved away, but screeched to a stop after going 500 feet.

The driver was found dead of a shotgun wound in the chest and the second man, shotgun still clutched in his hands, had died of the injuries he suffered when the car ran over him.

Police said they do not know whether the driver was shot dead.

at Highland. Slicker was charged with driving while intoxicated and being an unlicensed driver. A motor vehicle check by troopers disclosed the car the youths had belonged to Supervisor Owen, who was attending a Board of Supervisors meeting in Kingston.

Owen was notified and a check outside the County Office Building showed his car was missing.

Troopers said Slicker will face the motor vehicle violations at a later date.

Tip Leads Police

To Arrest of Youth

A tipoff to local police early today led to the arrest of George Gulick, 18, of 199 Greenkill Avenue, on a third degree burglary charge.

Police said he was apprehended on his way out of Ginger's, 8 Thomas Street, after breaking into the tavern through a front door.

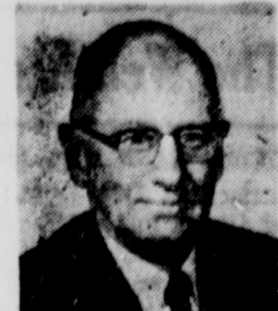

Officers Gerald Tierney, William Whalen, Joseph Kivian, Junior Harris, Joseph Feraca and Jerry Vitek were dispatched to the tavern after police headquarters was notified that someone was apparently inside of the building after closing of the tavern, and the officers arrested Gulick at gunpoint. It was not noted whether the defendant had anything from the tavern in his possession when arrested.

City Judge Hubert A. Richter today adjourned hearing to Wednesday to permit him time to obtain counsel.

Switch Cyclical Stock
If It Causes Concern

Q—"I need your advice since my husband is ill, due to a stroke. Would you tell me, please, if you think Burlington Industries is safe to hold. We have a few shares, mainly for income, and it is the only stock about which we are concerned." D. B.

A—I am extremely sorry that your husband is ill and I hope that he will fully recover. I believe that Burlington Industries is a sound stock and safe to hold. Due to the cyclical nature of the textile business, however, it may not be wise for you to hold it, particularly if it is causing you concern. It seems to me that in your particular circumstances, you might be better off with less worry in a more stable situation. I suggest that you sell your Burlington Industries and put the proceeds into Columbia Gas, selling around the same price level. The dividend seems safe here and may be increased.

Q—"I have some questions pertaining to short selling. To sell short on the New York Stock Exchange, would I deposit with the broker the full cash value of the shares sold or can this be handled as a margin transaction? Does the short seller participate in dividends?" M. R.

A—Technically all short sales are considered margin transactions. You may deposit with your broker the full cash value of your commitment when you go short; or you can handle the transaction on a 70 per cent margin basis, if your broker approves. As a short seller, you do not participate in any dividends—quite the reverse. Since your broker must borrow stock to make delivery against your short he will collect from you any dividends declared until you have covered.

If you will allow me, I'm going to offer a bit of gratuitous advice. There are many hazards in short selling. In your place, I would avoid it until I had required more trading experience than your letter indicates.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possibly in his column.

Alert West N. Y. For 3-5 Inch Snow

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—From three to five inches of snow was the weather prospect for areas of Western New York today.

The Weather Bureau, in issuing the snow alert, said the major snowfall would end by noon, with flurries expected to continue into the evening. Forecasters said the snow was the easterly edge of a storm that blanketed portions of Michigan, Northern Indiana, Illinois and Ohio Monday.

probably will take a year or more for the college to be accredited.

"Accreditation is an important and time consuming process. It involves deep and searching study and analysis of all aspects of the college program and plans and is not something that can be rushed through," Dr. Lake said. "But we have started working very seriously toward this significant milestone in the college's history. The entire college faculty and administration will be directing much of their efforts over the next year to this project."

"Within that process of preparation for the official accreditation study by representatives of the Middle States Association," he said, "there will be a close examination of the degree to which the college fulfills its role in the community, and of the personal attainments and characteristics which the college's educational program should be designated to produce in its students."

Other areas of study will relate to the evaluation of the use of the college library, circulation of books in the library, and the responsibility of the library in the college's objectives.

Also to be checked is evidence that the student selection procedure accomplishes its designed goal, a study of how special academic programs relate to the college's objectives, and the means of assessing the progress of students.

Others to Be Examined

Other areas to be examined are student withdrawals, criteria for selection of faculty members and the concept of the institution's responsibility to its students outside the area of academic or professional instruction.

After the college completes its self evaluation, a professional team assigned by Middle States, will visit the college for a three day period and make its own thorough assessment of the effect of the college's progress.

U.C.C.C. accepted its first students in September, 1963, and since then the student enrollment has grown rapidly until now there are over 1,300 students, including 700 full-time students. The projected full time enrollment for September 1967 is 800 with growth anticipated to about 1,000 full time students by 1970, and 1,500 full time students by the mid 1970s.

Rochester Town Board Oks State Move for Youth

The 1967 application to the New York State Division for Youth was approved by the Town of Rochester Board at a meeting held in the Town Clerk's Office, Accord. The application includes a $500 appropriation for the Kerhonkson Pool Swimming Program and another $500 for the newly planned recreational program sponsored jointly by the Rochester Valley Central School and Towns of Rochester and Marletown.

This new program, as planned, will include recreational activities for boys at various school sites and a skiing program for both boys and girls.

Held Hearing on Taxes

Following the session a public hearing on partial tax exemptions for those 65 or older was held with Councilman Morris Sims as Chairman. Official action on the exemptions will come at a meeting Dec. 29 at 8 p.m. None of the "several persons" at the public hearing were reported as voicing any objection to the legislation.

Earlier in the session Councilman Morris Sims questioned reasons for the negative vote cast by Supervisor Franklin S. Kelder and Justice Abram Smith on the 1967 budget.

Stating the matter should be discussed at greater length, Sims went on to other business after being told both men objected to deletion of a portion of the election appropriation. Kelder said he had okayed the preliminary budget, which contained the monies for a new voting district and voting machine, but withdrew his approval when these items were cut. Smith agreed, adding that he voted in favor of establishing the new district.

Other Action Taken

In other action, board members:

—Noted receipt of a letter from the state Traffic Commission stating a stop sign will be installed at the intersection of Queen's Highway and Route 209, as requested by the board.

—Heard presentation of plans for a second section of the Grant Estates housing development by John Nadratowski, a representative of the Catskill Land Corporation. The board ruled the section was approved for Open Area Development.

—Voted approval of a resort by Robert Cole, multiple residence officer and inspector which set total fees collected during the past year at $607.

Lists Major Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker John W. McCormack said today continued farm leadership in combating aggression and "preserving and carrying out" newborn domestic programs will be the major issues in the 90th Congress.

In response to questions submitted by The Associated Press, McCormack said on the eve of his 75th birthday that he does not look with trepidation to the job of leading the House with greatly reduced strength among

Hint 'Thin' Nike X Setup As U. S. Answer to Moscow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indications mount that the United States will answer Soviet deployment of an antiballistic missile system by erecting a "thin" Nike X defense carrying an over-all price tag of $3 billion to $6 billion.

At first such an antimissile setup would consist of a dozen Nike Zeus interceptor batteries perhaps spaced along the nation's northern border. This light, or area, defense might involve a first-year installment of several hundred million dollars.

The decision on whether to move ahead in this new phase of strategic weaponry is being hammered out in budget discussions now under way in the Defense Department.

High-ranking officials in other areas reported that the decision will come in January or February — and may hinge on whether the United States can persuade the Soviet Union to slow down the extension of the arms race into the antiballistic missile field.

Antimissiles, these officials said, will not alter the present balance of power but will put extraordinary financial burdens on both the United States and the Soviet Union.

In addition to the possible deployment of such missiles in the United States, the administration also is studying the feasibility of having a similar defense system for Western Europe. This issue, it is understood, will be on the agenda of the Atlantic alliance's nuclear planning committee.

On the noncombatant side, the annual Christmas invasion of American visitors started.

Comedian Bob Hope and his troupe of entertainers was operating on a shuttle schedule between Thailand and South Vietnam. Hope's group flew in from Thailand Monday, out on a show in the central highlands for U.S. 4th Infantry Division troops and then flew back to entertain American airmen in Thailand. Hope was scheduled to return to South Vietnam once or twice more before Christmas.

Evangelist Billy Graham arrived in Saigon to conduct Christmas services for U.S. servicemen. He said that millions of Americans view the Vietnam war with "frustrated impatience" and one of the reasons for his first visit — his first to Vietnam — was to gather information with which to answer questioners.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, the Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, is scheduled to arrive Friday to conduct holiday services.

Bernard G. Matthews, former academic supervisor of Cardinal Farley Military Academy, Rhinecliff, is serving as administrative assistant.

Enrollment of Coleman Catholic totals 280 students in grades 9-12, representing 21 parishes and 16 missions in Ulster and North-ern Dutchess Counties. The registration includes students from St. Joseph's, St. Mary's, St. Peter's and Immaculate Conception schools of Kingston; St. Catherine Labour School, Lake Katrine; St. Mary's School, Saugerties; St. Joseph's School, New Paltz; St. Augustine's School, Highland; St. Peter's School, Rosendale; St. Christopher's School, Red Hook; Myron J. Michael Junior High School and J. Watson Bailey Junior High School of Kingston and Ontario Junior High School.

Coleman Catholic will be accepting approximately 120 freshman boys and girls for September 1967. A limited number of boys and girls will be accepted for the sophomore year in September 1967.

Openings for boys and girls in the junior year September 1967 will be announced.

"Thicker" — A $10-billion to $12-billion setup of Nike Zeus interceptors and their long-range detection radars plus some superfast Sprint missiles which would ascend skyward at a mile a second to knock down any warheads which got past Zeus.

"Thick" — The complete system costing up to $40 billion over a period of years, including large numbers of Zeus and Sprint rockets; missile site radar and multifunction array radar which would not only detect but track and sort out real from decoy missiles; and fallout shelters for millions of Americans.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has maintained in the past that present technology does not permit creation of an infallible missile defense system.

It was McNamara who, at the President's Texas ranch Nov. 10, disclosed the Soviets were deploying an antimissile network.
